Laughlin, president of Post 255, Donald D. Patrick, adviser of 255 and counselor for Coordinated Youth Services; Granite City Officer Glenn Wright, adviser of Post 10-33, and Madison Juvenile Officer Donald Bridick, former adviser and current committee member of Post 10-4. Both Bridick and Wright were personally honored for their work in Exploring. W. F. "Mick"

Strange, vice-president of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council for Exploring, who spoke at the event, noted that this was an "excellent example of how our area police are working together, not only to make the area a safer place to live, but a better place to live, work and raise a family."

'Lost chance' to get sewers

Pro

Favorable aspects that have been cited in regard to the Madison County Board's sanitary sewer program for the Quad-City area:

Elimination of effluent saturating the ground and surface, related improvement of public health.

Massive state-federal help for not only collector and intercepting sewers but also for laterals. It is believed such financial aid never again could be arranged.

The high separation into three areas, each area paying only for necessary installation and maintenance costs within its territory.

Relatively low interest rate through use of general obligation bonds rather than revenue bonds.

Enhanced worth of existing property including unimproved land, homes and business sites.

Major economic stimulus in the vicinity of Interstate 270.

Con

Negative aspects that have been voiced regarding the County Board's special service areas for sanitary sewers:

Use of three areas (required by state law and the bond market) will result in differing tax rates. Differing average assessments are expected to approximately offset such rates, resulting in most home owners paying a $100 yearly tax perhaps more in the initial year and substantially less in later years.

General obligation bonds. While offering savings over revenue bonds and revenue bonds are unobtainable—GO bonds result in a tax that varies based on assessed valuation, rather than being identical at all homes.

Many of the costs are estimates. Bond bids and installation bids have not yet been obtained, nor are treatment agreements with Granite City and Collinsville signed as yet.

Years of preparation have led to a 5.25 financing arrangement under which there will be $14,360,296 state-federal and $12,154,420 for Area One; $137,461 for Area Two (State Park Place); and $1,281,413 for Area Three. East Madison (University, Madison, and Eagle Creek) is also included.

Expedite preparations for Maryville extension

Granite City Council members Monday night authorized Mayor Paul Schuler to initiate condemnation proceedings to acquire the last remaining parcel of land needed as right-of-way for construction of the Maryville Road extension from Pontoon Road to Highway 162.

In action that also affirmed the city's agreement with Madison County for construction of the new four-lane highway in a joint city-county project financed by motor fuel tax funds, the council instructed Mayor Schuler to use eminent domain proceedings to acquire the final easement "if necessary."

On March 22 this year, the city council enacted an ordinance under its "home rule" authority providing for a "quick take" of property needed as easements for highway and road improvements.

Mayor Schuler told the Press-Record that this ordinance will be applied if it is necessary to acquire the needed right-of-way through court proceedings.

Under the "quick take" terms of the ordinance, the city can acquire the right-of-way by petition to the court, with the amount of payment for the land to be determined in later court proceedings. The owner has no option but to sell the land to the city in such proceedings.

In this manner, the city can acquire its needed easements for highway improvements without waiting a long period, possibly several years, in concluding court proceedings under regular condemnation laws.

The city's new eminent domain ordinance is modeled after that used by the Illinois Department of Transportation in acquiring right-of-way for highway construction, according to City Attorney George Filloff.

Mayor Schuler described the "quick take" ordinance as "a powerful one that gives the city the authority to acquire needed right-of-way in instances where negotiations for such easements fail to result in an agreement between the owner and the city."

The mayor said that the only remaining tract of right-of-way necessary to the city's portion of the Maryville Road extension is a tract of about two-thirds of an acre at Highway 162 and

Reception for Sabin

Lewis E. Sabin, principal of Venice High School since 1945 and assistant high school principal before that time, starting in 1937, will be honored from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday.

A retirement reception is arranged to honor the long-time principal in the Venice School Gymnasium. Mrs. Anna McKinney, Venice Grade School principal, is chairman of the arrangements committee, consisting of Venice School District employees.

Former students, friends and all citizens of Venice are invited to attend the event, Mrs. McKinney said.

On and off the record

Maybe they took in 2,000 boarders

Computers have their faults, but one may have performed a valuable service for the Illinois State Department of Revenue. It showed that 2,000 tax relief returns have been mailed to a single Chicago address.

Under the program for tax relief for the elderly, a $300,000 yearly distribution, the intent is that any individual can get no more than $600.

Thirty state agents are checking on indications that thousands of tax relief applications have been filed from six addresses.

Venice meeting on Bicentennial

Mayor William Ebersoldt of Venice has called a meeting of all persons and leaders of organizations interested in participating in the Venice Bicentennial program, and asked them to be at the City Hall at 7 p.m. Monday, May 24.

Plans for the July 3 parade, activities in Lee Park and a float will be discussed.

Rabies clinic at Chouteau

There will be an anti-rabies inoculation clinic for dogs and cats from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, May 20, at the Chouteau Township Highway Department garage.

A veterinarian will administer the inoculations for a fee of $4 per animal. The garage is located on West Chain of Rocks Road just north of Interstate 270 behind the Midwest Motel.

$151,400 fire hall contract

Granite City Council members moved Monday night toward construction of a proposed new fire station at Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road—a project that has been in the planning stage since 1973.

On a motion by Alderman Curtis Blevins of the Fifth Ward, chairman of the council's City Buildings committee, the council approved the award of a construction contract to the Meredith Wilson Construction Co. of Bethalto.

The Wilson firm was the lowest of eight bidders to submit construction proposals at a bid opening May 5 at the office of City Clerk Robert Sievers.

The contract was awarded on a bid of $151,400, including $144,500 for construction and $6,900 for a parking lot.

The council agreed at the same time to provide the additional funds necessary to build the fire station at the lowest bid price. Before bids were called the city had $108,000 budgeted for the construction.

As a result, the aldermen agreed Monday night to go along with a new appropriation of $124,000 for the fire house construction. The money will be paid out of the federal revenue sharing accounts.

Specifications call for construction of a single-story brick, cottage-type quarters for 12 firemen.

The station will be built on a site at Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road which was purchased at a cost of $12,000 in 1973.

Construction was blocked at that time by a group of neighborhood residents who objected to the building at that location.

The controversy continued for more than a year and was resolved in October 1975 when the residents to enjoin the city from building the station were dismissed on motion of the objects.

Dedicate Baptist center

Formal dedication and open house of the new Madison County Baptist Association building in Mitchell will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The building is located on the 37-acre Baptist grounds, with the entrance at 620 Engineer Road.

The Rev. Wendell Garrison, president of the Illinois Baptist Association and formerly pastor of Suburban Baptist Church in Granite City, will speak at the dedication.

A sweet gum tree will be planted in recognition of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Stamp, caretakers at the Baptist grounds for 18 years. They recently retired.

The all-purpose 36x60-foot building of brick veneer will be known as the Madison County Baptist Center. The building cost $31,000, which was con-

Street work is scheduled

By HARRY BARNES

First steps in developing a citywide street improvement program that would include resurfacing, major reconstruction and sidewalk construction in all of the city's seven wards were taken by the Granite City Council Monday night.

At the request of City Engineer Monroe Brewer, the aldermen approved a series of eight separate resolutions appropriating a total of $200,500 in motor fuel tax funds to finance the projects.

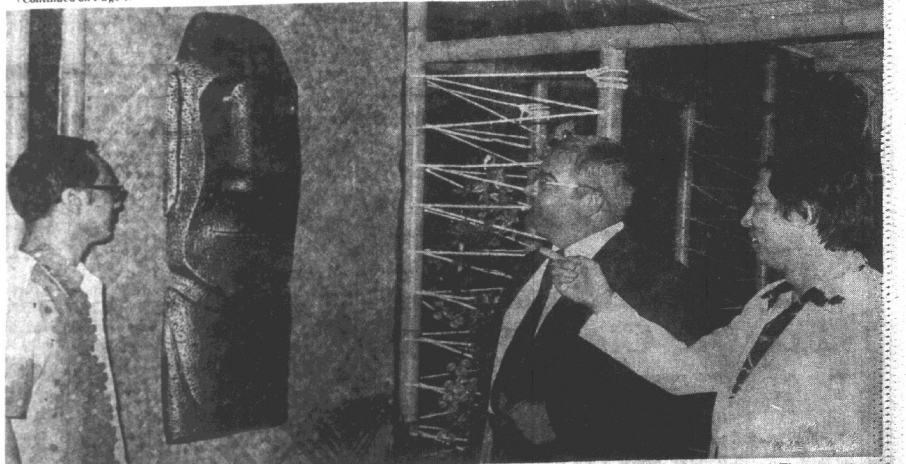

Council members at first suggested waiting a week to give the aldermen a chance to study a list of projects proposed by Brewer, but agreed to act on the appropriations Monday night after the engineer explained that, as motor fuel tax projects, the proposals must be sent to the Illinois Department of Transportation for approval and that immediate action should be taken "to get the paper work started."

Brewer explained that approval of the appropriations did not constitute approval of the project construction and that council members would have an opportunity later to approve or disapprove the projects on their individual merits.

The projects for which ap-

35 GC fires St. Elizabeth to graduate 40 in April

Thirty-five fires in Granite City during April caused damage estimated at a total of $17,475, according to the monthly report of Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente, presented to the City Council Monday night.

The calls included 22 to buildings with losses totaling $10,125 to the buildings and $5,975 to the contents, and 13 for motor vehicle fires with damage estimated at $1,375.

In all, the fire department answered 78 calls during April, including 21 for rubbish and weed fires, one inhalator call, eight false alarms and 10 others, including rescue calls, the report disclosed.

Parente also noted the fire department made three calls out of town or for aid to other fire departments with no estimates of the losses available.

King & Hoffman office permit ok'd by council

The Granite City Council Monday night approved all the recommendations of the city's Plan Commission and Board of Appeals on zoning issues.

On the Plan Commission's recommendation, the board approved a special use permit for King & Hoffman Realty Co. to move their office to 2848 Madison Ave., from the present location at 2861 Madison Ave. At a hearing, the owners explained the new location has adequate off-street parking for the business.

A special use permit also was granted to Dennis Locandro, 2301 Nameoki Road, to operate an auto customizing shop.

Locandro first requested a business zoning, but at the request of the Plan Commission changed his request to one for a special use permit.

The council also approved annexation of the Foreman Heights second addition and annexations of 2614 and 2618 Whippoorwill Lane. The Foreman Heights annexation was recommended by City Engineer Monroe Brewer. The Plan Commission endorsed all of the annexation requests.

A request by Daniel Deak Jr., 2922 W 20th St., for a permit to sell new and used citizens' band radios from his garage was tabled by the Plan Commission, since Deak did not attend to answer questions. It is to be considered by the commission and council in June.

The City Council Monday night also approved five recommendations of the city's Board of Appeals.

Patrick Early, 2587 Pontoon Road, was granted a variance to construct an attached garage three feet from his side property line. George Brinn, 2321 Logan St., was granted permission to place a mobile home on a 32½ foot lot, rather than the 38 feet required by city ordinance, and Sam Whitmer, 2321 State St., was granted a variance to construct a carport one foot from his side property line.

Variances also were granted to James Jeffries, 2577 Center St., to construct a carport two feet from his side property line, and Thomas Hundley, 3826-3830 Nameoki Road, to construct a sales office five feet from the rear and side property lines.

The council was told that the June meeting of the Board of Appeals has been cancelled due to vacations of board members and the next regular meeting will be held July 14.

Ok tax warrants to meet Chouteau Highway costs

In order to meet the upcoming payroll of the Chouteau Township Highway Department, the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors agreed Monday night to sell two $10,000 anticipation warrants for highway purposes.

The warrants include $10,000 for the general road fund and an equal amount for the special hard road fund.

The highway department has a small amount of taxes expected to be received in the near future from County Treasurer George Musao, but new tax funds are not expected to be received until late August or early September.

Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Duck" Sparks noted.

He contended Highway Commissioner James Kites will have to borrow much more before new taxes are received to keep the department operating at its present level.

The Town Board also voted to cash an $8,000 savings certificate for the town fund, in order to bolster a low balance in the checking account.

A letter was read from the Madison County Community Development Office warning the township not to obligate expenditure of any Community Development grant funds until after final plans for a proposed

Plan picnic

All Quad-Cityans originally from Tennessee and "those with Tennessee in their hearts" are being invited to attend a picnic Sunday, June 6, in Wilson Park, a spokesman for the organizers said Tuesday.

The event will be held at Shelter Two on the Benton Street side of the park. The day-long event will be highlighted by lunch at 1:30 p.m. Each person attending is requested to bring his own picnic lunch.

He introduced enamel to the United States, and developed the country's leading producer of enamelware.

Other interests were organized under his leadership and were carried forward to success under his management.

He had the satisfaction of seeing the city he had founded grow to hold a population of 15,000 people, with churches, public schools and a hospital.

In addition to being director general of the National Enameling and Stamping Company, he was president of the Granite City Gas, Light and Fuel Company, and one of the original promoters of the American Steel Foundry and Commonwealth Steel Company.

He also was director of the Granite City National Bank, as well as the Granite City Realty Company.

Part of his success was the luck of living in a quick-growing country of tremendous resources. But an equally large part was the way he went out to meet fortune.

He had not only a sharp sense of opportunity but a series of specific ideas about business and business administration based upon a sense of justice, honesty and considerable regard for his fellow man.

In addition, he had the faculty of drawing to him a corps of associates whose energy and business judgment proved a valuable supplement to his own, historians noted.

When William Niedringhaus passed away on July 8, 1908, at the age of 73, the following well-known tribute to him was written:

"All who were associated with him in business or financial matters recognized his absolute integrity, as well as his fairness and liberality in judging the other side than his own of the question under consideration."

"The army of men employed in his many manufacturing interests looked on him not as a moneyed antagonist, but as a fair-minded judge of their interest as well as his own, and their wives and children knew him as a benefactor and steadfast friend."

"The tribute appeared in the 'Centennial History of Madison County, Illinois, and Its People, 1812-1912,' edited and compiled by W. T. Norton in 1912."

In the City Hall of Granite City there is a bronze fountain dedicated to the memory of William F. Niedringhaus.

"The fountain is in the form of an open-beam lead being held by a crane, and the figure of an open-beam helper appears on each side."

Inscribed on the fountain are these words:

"William F. Niedringhaus 1835-1908, inventor of granteaware, who with his brother, Frederick, founded Granite City. His duty to his neighbor was his practical religion. . . His duty to his God was his ethical religion."

educators in the Tri-City area," Sablin has served as a teacher and administrator in the Venice, School District since beginning his career in education in 1927.

With the exception of 41 months duty in the U. S. Army Signal Intelligence Service during World War II, serving in England, France and Germany, Sablin has spent his entire 39-year career in the Venice District.

He received his bachelor's degree in chemistry from Illinois College in Jacksonville in 1934 and earned a master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1938.

For several years, he was an active member of the Granite City Civil Defense, serving as its first radiological officer and as an instructor in chemical, bacteriological and radiological warfare defense.

Sablin lives at 1810 August St., Granite City. He is the father of five children, between the ages of 21 and 29 years.

"All of us are proud of Mr. Sablin's outstanding record and we want to extend an invitation to all Venice residents, former students and friends to join us in paying tribute to him at Monday's reception," Mrs. McKinney said.

East 23rd Street, owned by Udell Blachoff.

Planning for the new highway, now estimated to cost more than $3 million, has been completed by county highway engineers and a call for bids on the project has been awaiting the city's acquisition of all its right-of-way. The county has obtained all of its easements.

In a related action Monday night, the City Council authorized payments for two pieces of right-of-way obtained at or near Pontion Road and Maryville Road.

These included payment of $5,438 to the Most Rev. Joseph McNicholas, Bishop of the Springfield diocese, for the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints for an easement near St. Elizabeth Church, and payment of $4,000 to the Rev. L. A. Medler, bishop of the St. Louis district of the church along Maryville Road just west of Pontion Road.

John J. Houlihan, director of the department.

Clinard served in the armed forces during World War II. He is active in the Amvets and a member of Amvets Post 51, Granite City.

He assumed his duties as service officer of Madison, Calhoun and Jersey Counties this week.

The Illinois Department of Veterans' Affairs Office in Alton is located at 215 Plaza.

Clinard will be in Granite City on Tuesday of each week from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at the City Hall.

Veterans and their dependents in Calhoun County may contact him in the circuit clerk's office at Hardin Thursday from 9 a.m. until noon.

Veterans in Jersey County may reach him on Thursday afternoons from 1 until 4 at the courthouse in Jerseyville.

$1,000 loot, $500 damages in burglary

Items valued at more than $1,000 were stolen and more than $500 in damages were caused by burglars who forced their way into a metal shed owned by Hoffert Brothers Construction Co., Belleville, at the Chicago Avenue overpass construction site south of the Granite City Interchange main gate, it was discovered at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

A steel door to the shed was pried with a crowbar and a locking bolt was sawed through with a hack saw. Bolt cutters were believed used to cut a metal reinforcing screen set in concrete.

A wooden frame for pouring concrete was damaged, as was a large welding machine.

Stolen were three "comealong" units, used to pull heavy items, a fire extinguisher, a skill saw, a water pump, 15 saw blades, a wrench, a level and other tools.

County tables plea for use permit on buildings

A request by George L. Arnold, planner, and Edward L. Burton, owner, for a special use permit to continue the present use of two buildings at Route 203 and Lee Street was tabled for 30 days by the Madison County Board yesterday on the request of board member Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township.

Arnold and Burton sought a permit "to continue the use of two non-conforming buildings for the use of a construction company for a storage area for equipment and related activities."

The property is in the Burton's Subdivision and the property is zoned R-3, a single family residential district, of Chouteau Township.

Objections from several residents were voiced at the public hearing May 6, but the board granted a variation to construct an attached garage to within three and one-half feet of the side property line. The house is the north east of Route 203 on the north side of Old Alton Road, and is in an R-3 district of Chouteau Township, in the Meadowland Subdivision.

request received the endorsement of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals.

At Sparks' request, the board will act on the permit at its June meeting.

Two recommendations of the board of zoning appeals were approved by the County Board. Shirley J. Miller was granted rezoning from a B-3 highway business district to an agricultural zoning at Route 162 and Mockingbird Lane, to construct a permanent residence. The property is in Nameoki Township.

Ollie Thompson also was granted a variation to construct an attached garage to within three and one-half feet of the side property line. The house is the north east of Route 203 on the north side of Old Alton Road, and is in an R-3 district of Chouteau Township, in the Meadowland Subdivision.

10 merchants committed to Madison Update plan

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk told the City Council Tuesday night that 10 Madison merchants and businessmen have committed themselves to remodeling their buildings as soon as a central theme has been determined.

"We will have a meeting within the next week to decide on a theme and will present the council with a suggestion for approval at the next council meeting," Mayor Sasyk said.

The response from his businessmen has been excellent. What are we looking for? We are looking for an appealing place to shop.

"One new theme that came up at our last meeting with the merchants is an Alpine look to the update corporation is now doing some preliminary drawings following this theme," Sasyk said.

of Karen Ann's selection as Miss Granite City. The winning of the pageant is no small accomplishment and I move we officially go on record and send her a letter expressing our congratulations. Karen, as well as her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Leonard Koliste, are a real credit to our city," Grzywasz said.

In other action, the council approved a building permit requested by David Crook, a contractor, for remodeling Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant which was damaged in a fire. Estimated cost is $15,000.

Plans for a St. Mary's Church picnic on June 18, 19 and 20, and a request for a parade permit on July 3 from the Bicentennial Committee also were approved.

Arrest two in CB radio theft

Two St. Louis men were arrested by Madison County sheriff's deputies who stopped their car on Route 162 at Lake Drive south of Pontion Beach at 3 p.m. Tuesday. The men were held for Troy police who charged each with a felony count of theft.

The two men allegedly entered Troy Electronics in Troy a short time earlier and while engaged the owner in conversation, the other allegedly stole three citizens' band radios.

They dropped one which was recovered immediately, it was alleged. The store owner gave a description of the car and the men left the store and sheriff's deputies stopped a car matching that description on Route 162.

Officers alleged the driver voluntarily opened his car trunk for them and two citizens' band radios were found in the trunk. The men were held at the scene until Troy police arrived to take custody of the men and the car.

Last Chance

Park Acres.

General obligation bonds are to total $3 million in Area One, $425,000 in Area Two and $650,000 in Area Three.

While actual bond bids have not yet been obtained, it is estimated that principal and interest costs for a home will average $100 yearly — $2,000 over a 20-year period.

As the area grows and more people pay sewer taxes, the actual average cost will be less than the $100 and $2,000 projections, since only a fixed amount will be needed, the planners say.

The belief that the 1976 program is the last chance is based on the conclusion that state and federal money being made available here will be gone here. If Quad Cityans reject it — and also on the assertion that the reserves for state and federal funds are being exhausted.

Top numerical priority has been given to the Quad-City area.

It was said at last weekend's hearings that the 75-25 formula arranged by Illinois seems unlikely to be better than 60-40 under future federal funding, which is still far from certain of passage nor would local priority be assured.

Trends were said to indicate that future federal money will stress sewage treatment rather than construction of sewer systems.

In recent weeks the number of easements obtained has accelerated leaving only a few unassigned.

Easements are being sought at the Tri-State Area Chamber of Commerce office, 1831 Delmar Ave. #26-440.

The easements are regarded as helpful in reducing construction and replacing its cost as well as preserving existing streets.

Where easements can permit installation of sewer lines at the backs of homes, the connection from each home will be easier and cheaper, it is believed by the special sewer committee.

Wheans may join Gitcho in Canada for mat Olympics

Granite City may be represented in July by three Olympians in Montreal, Canada, says GCHS North wrestling mentor Walt Whitaker.

Jan Gitcho, a former high school wrestling standout here and a graduate of SIUE, has earned his way onto the United States freestyle team.

Complementing Gitcho may be two GCHS North wrestlers, Kris and Keith Whelan.

Gitcho earned a spot on the 1976 U.S. Olympic team during the weekend with a second-place finish in qualifying trials held at Cleveland, Ohio, winning six of his seven matches.

Only the top three matmen from Saturday's trials were named to the team, which will represent the U.S. in July at the Olympics.

Gitcho is competing in the 125-pound division. He noted, "I'm assured of a spot on the team, and now I have to earn the right to start in the Olympics."

A meet in Brookport, N.Y. on Friday June 18 will decide whether or not Gitcho starts for the team or is seeded second or third in his weight class.

A sweep of three straight bouts would give him the top seed going into the Olympics, whereas a loss would force him to wrestle a fourth time to decide second.

At New York he will square off against Chicago's Mark Massey and two-time National collegiate Athletic Association champion Ryan Runwaha of Wisconsin before meeting Pennsylvania's Jim Carr.

Carr said the matmen who named Gitcho his only loss at Cleveland.

In leading 3-0 in the first period, recalls Gitcho, "I caught me with a throw and executed a pin."

Gitcho has beaten Carr in previous matches not related to the Cleveland meet and adds, "I expect to win again."

The Granite City's first-place sweep earlier this year in World Games Cup competition is scheduled to be shown at 3 p.m. Saturday, May 29, on Channel 30 as part of a program entitled "The Champions."

Kris Whelan, at 105 pounds, took fourth place this weekend in Greco-Roman Wrestling Olympics held at Cleveland, and Keith Whelan earned a third place at 114.

The top five matmen in each weight class at Cleveland were invited to attend Olympic training camps at Northern Illinois University in two weeks and again in New York on June 22.

Sons of North High Assistant Wrestling Coach Bob Whelan, Kris and Keith will compete at the camps in a series of round robin tournaments.

Miller applied for a special use permit to convert the office to a home, but the permit was denied when the state's attorney's office noted houses were not among the uses for which permits could be granted in business districts.

Whitell, a county board member and member of the land use committee, had used his influence to assist Miller. They noted Whitell recently was hired as a superintendent with Miller's company.

Whitell denied the allegation, but abstained from voting on Miller's rezoning request at Wednesday's meeting to avoid a conflict of interest.

Partially as a result of the Miller incident, the county board yesterday approved nine pages of amendments to the zoning ordinance.

One amendment allows houses under special use permits in business districts.

At a seeding of players meeting held at South last night, the Warriors doubles team of Tim Frost-Mike Papes (9-8 record) was seeded third and drew a first-round bye.

Drawing first-round byes also were North's doubles teams of Rodney Wortham-Mike Sherman (13-5) and Dave Wessenberg-Dean Rochester (14-7).

Singles player Kevin Worster (17-1) of South also drew a bye. Scheduled for competition tomorrow are South's sons of Ron Backs-Tom Boker (17-2), North's Larry Miller (4-10) and Warner Andy Hall (4-7).

Madison High School, coached by Paula Domino, will be represented by two doubles teams. Ron Jones-Patrick Winston and William Garrett-Wally Rajewski.

TAKE FOOD STAMPS. A $30 book of food stamps was stolen from a drawer in the bedroom at the home of Paul Mainey, 1729 Edison Ave. It was reported at 2:55 p.m. Wednesday. Entry was believed gained through the unlocked front door.

LEGION TO ELECT. The American Legion Post 307 will nominate officers at an 8 p.m. meeting today at the Post Home. The election will be held on June 3 at 8 p.m.

Steelers shut out by South

GCHS South defeated GCHS North 7-0 last night in a tennis meet hosted by the South Warriors.

Singles results, with South listed first, were Tim Frost 6-1, 6-1 over Dave Haldean, Mike Papes 6-2, 6-1 over Larry Miller, Kevin Worster 6-0, 6-1 over Rodney Wortham and Andy Hall 6-2, 6-0 over Bob Conneau.

In doubles, it was Papes-Frost 6-4, 6-0 over Mike Sherman-Wortham, Worster-Mike Hayes 7-6, 6-1 over Haldean-Miller and Ron Backs-Tom Boker 6-0 over Dave Wessenberg-Dean Rochester.

Miller applied for a special use permit to convert the office to a home, but the permit was denied when the state's attorney's office noted houses were not among the uses for which permits could be granted in business districts.

Dr. Felicia D. Koch and Dr. Frank Dioneda attended the 20th annual meeting of the Illinois Academy of Family Physicians which concluded Tuesday at the Hyatt Regency in Chicago.

The Granite City physicians were among 1,000 family doctors from throughout Illinois participating in the postgraduate seminar.

Those attending updated their knowledge and skills in such diverse subjects as "The Limp," "Estrogen," "Use of Blood and Its Fractions," "Accreditation of Ambulatory Health Care," "Decision Making in the Emergency Department," "Congenital Heart Disease in the Young and Old," and "New Approaches to the Complications of Diabetes."

They took time out to acquaint medical students with the new 20th specialty in medicine—Family Practice. Currently, there are over 3,000 newly graduated doctors taking the three-year residency training program, which will lead to their becoming qualified family physicians.

The Illinois Academy, a chapter of the American Academy of Family Physicians, is the second largest medical association in the country. It was formed in 1947 to promote the highest standards of medical care.

In order to remain a member of the Academy, a physician must produce evidence of having completed at least 150 hours of postgraduate study every three years.

Attendance at the Academy's 28th annual meeting provided 16 hours of the 20 hours of study credit each doctor needs for the current year.

STUDENT WALTZERS Reatha Cannon and Mickey Holmes of the fifth grade at Venice school dance to "Beautiful Dreamer" during a Bicentennial program at the school. The program, set in the era of Stephen Foster, was arranged by Mrs. Sina Reeves, Mrs. Hattie Uley and Miss Alice Purdes.

Bicentennial program at Venice School

An all-school Bicentennial program was presented by the Venice Elementary School featuring music from the country's past to the present rock era.

Members of the Bicentennial Committee in charge of the program were: Mrs. Sina Reeves, Mrs. Hattie Uley and Miss Alice Purdes.

A fifth-grade class depicted the era of Stephen Foster. A picture of a colonial mansion was fastened on a green background. A tall green tree was on one side of the foreground and against it leaned "Old Black Joe" playing the banjo.

After singing "Old Black Joe" and "My Old Kentucky Home," fifth-grade couples in Miss Purdes's class waltzed on the gym floor to "Beautiful Dreamer."

The program was attended by parents, friends and fellow students.

Venice board hears commencement plans

Thirty-nine seniors will graduate Friday, May 28, at Venice High School's commencement exercises, members of the Venice School Board were advised at Monday night's meeting.

Ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. in the Venice School Gymnasium. The event previously was planned in an outdoor area, but was changed Monday to an inside location.

J. Lester Buford, former superintendent of schools at Mount Vernon for 27 years and National Education Association president, will be guest speaker at the commencement.

Jack T. Tolliver, school board president, will present diplomas to the candidates, it was announced.

In other business, no school was declared on June 1, 2, 3 and 4, with Monday, May 31, set as the final school day. The original school calendar extended the spring semester through June 4.

A request was approved to use the Venice Schools facilities for a summer recreational program sponsored each year by the Venice Park District and city. The series of weekday activities will commence June 14, it was reported.

Also approved was a summer band program for Venice students, under the direction of Don Mansell, Venice band director, providing an average daily attendance is maintained at 15 pupils during the six-week period.

Graduation ceremonies also are planned at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, May 27, for adult education students at Venice Lincoln Technical Center. Board members were asked to attend the ceremony.

Three candidates currently are being considered as replacement for Lewis E. Sabin, who will retire at the end of the 1975-76 school year as principal of Venice High School, it was reported.

A reception honoring Sabin, high school principal and assistant principal from 1937, is scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday at Venice High School Gymnasium. Former students, friends and all Venice citizens are invited to attend the event, Tolliver announced.

St. Joseph graduation is Sunday

Commencement exercises will be conducted for the 1976 graduates of St. Joseph Catholic School at the 9:30 a.m. Mass Sunday at the church.

Father Henry Mack will present diplomas to each of the eighth-grade graduates.

Graduates are: Michele Boyer, Carmella Johannpeter, Sallie Read, Jean Rees, Elizabeth Szymek, Lisa Zimmerman, John Buhmann, Timothy Burns, Joseph Dekuntz, David DeGonia, Mark Donaldson, Neil French, John Veres and Henry Ybarra.

Dr. Vasileff will intern at Oklahoma City

Dr. Thomas P. Vasileff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Vasileff, formerly of Granite City, was one of 137 new physicians to recite the Hippocratic oath at the eleventh annual Senior Class Day ceremonies this month for the St. Louis University School of Medicine, held at Kiel Auditorium.

Dr. Robert J. Henle, S. J., president of Georgetown University, was the keynote speaker. Vallee L. Willman, M.D., professor and chairman of the Department of Surgery, led the graduates in reciting the oath.

Dr. Vasileff received his doctor of medicine degree at university commencement exercises the following day. He attended Granite City High School and graduated from Southern Illinois University. Dr. Vasileff will take his internship in orthopedic surgery at the University of Oklahoma Hospital and Clinics, Oklahoma City.

BICENTENNIAL BUS. A Bi-State Transit System bus decorated for the nation's 200th anniversary will be used—on a surprise basis—on various routes to provide a free ride. It is painted with reproductions of colonial flags used by American troops during the Revolutionary War. Inside it are posters featuring early flags and their histories. Each passenger will receive a red, white and blue transit history brochure. And American music—from folk to jazz—will be played over a special sound system. Bi-State Agency officials describe the program as "our Happy Birthday America gift to the more than two million people in our service area."

Gordon heads Catholic Charities

The annual meeting of the Quad-Cities Catholic Charities was held Monday at Charles Restaurant. The invocation was given by the Right Rev. Monsignor William J. Casin, diocesan director of Catholic Charities, and Thomas Gordon Jr. was installed as president of the board.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Margaret Lee, vice-president, and Mrs. Ann Pieper, treasurer.

New members installed for three-year terms were Mrs. Mary Jane Berns, William P. Connolly, Mrs. Helen DeKuntz, John Mink, Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver, Mrs. Margaret Williamson and Mrs. Esther Zimmerman.

The returning board members are Circuit Judge Horace Calvo, Dr. Gerard Baggett, Mrs. Gertrude Petty, Robert Fane, Miss Nina Dittman, Frank Kierski and John Zotti.

A statistical report given for the first four months of the year showed 381 cases.

Of this total, 302 were family welfare cases, 14 unwed parents, 25 adoptive homes, seven foster homes and 4 child welfare cases.

Among child welfare cases, 18 were being supervised in their own home, four in homes of relatives, nine in foster homes, three in adoptive homes, one in independent living and seven institutions. A report was given on the program for pregnant and distressed, there have been 37 calls since a new ad was placed in the Press-Record in December.

The Division of Social Services of the Illinois Catholic Conference will have its annual meeting on June 8-9 at the Bradley University campus in Peoria. The board members were invited to attend, participate in reviewing their roles in meeting human needs, and develop constructive plans for action.

The proposed 1977 budget will be presented to the United Way in August. A Catholic Charities board meeting will be held in July to approve the budget.

McKinley bridge traffic up

McKinley Bridge traffic in Venice increased by 700 vehicles a day in April over the month of March, Duane S. Georgoff, bridge manager, has reported to the Venice City Council.

March increased this year 800 vehicles over February and we believed this to be due to the month of March, Duane S. Georgoff, bridge manager, has reported to the Venice City Council.

However, we have been most pleased and surprised to find April 700 vehicles over March, he said.

I believe many of the 800 new bridge users in March found our bridge to really be more convenient to the downtown St. Louis area, Lambert Airport and I-70," Georgoff said.

A total of 246,079 vehicles crossed the bridge in April for a daily average of 8,203.

The council approved a Bi-State Development Agency request to construct a bus shelter at the northeast corner of Broadway and Klein street. The council heard from Michael Mays, president of a newly formed group of young people calling themselves "Three the Hard Way" who asked the council to assist them in establishing recreation facilities. They were referred by Alderman John Ervin to Dale Crawford, park commissioner. Ervin explained that recreation matters are handled by the park board.

Huffaker-Welty wedding at Grace Baptist Church

Miss Frances Lenore Welty, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Welty, 2240 Lincoln Ave., and Michael Lee Huffaker, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huffaker, 25 Bradley Ave., exchanged wedding vows April 24 at Grace Baptist Church.

Candlelight illuminated the white carpeted aisle and sanctuary for the double ring ceremony, performed at 4:30 p.m. by the Rev. Jack Fritts. Robert Patton and Vickie Welty, a sister of the bride, sang "The Wedding Song."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white organza gown fashioned with a high neckline and long, full lace sleeves.

Her redingote designed skirt was accented with matching lace and swept into a chapel train, bordered at the hemline with scalloped lace.

She wore a mantilla veil trimmed in lace and held a Bible topped with an arrangement of miniature carnations tinted blue and apricot, intermingled with pink and yellow rosebuds and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Vickie Welty, chose a blue dotted swiss dress featuring a scoop neck and A-line skirt, encircled with a white lace trimmed flounce. Her gown was worn with a matching jacket with caplet sleeves.

Bridesmaids Misses Susan and Linda Welty, sisters of the bride, Barbie Huffaker, the groom's sister, and Pat Brinker wore identically styled gowns in pink and maize. Each attendant wore a white picture hat and held a nosegay of miniature carnations in rainbow colors.

Michael Carmichael, the flower girl, was dressed in a frock of white dotted swiss over taffeta created with a gathered skirt, trimmed with eyelash lace.

She also wore a short cape and carried a white basket of rose petals.

Eddie Green served as the ringbearer.

The groom chose his brother, Dan Huffaker, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers, included Richard and Larry Welty, brothers of the bride, Bill White, Otto Brame, Alfred and Wayne White, all cousins of the groom.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School. The bride was employed as an operating room technician at St. Elizabeth Hospital before her marriage.

The groom is stationed at Peterson Air Force Base, Colo. They are now residing in Colorado Springs, Colo.

TAKE SUN ROOF
A two-piece sun roof, valued at $550, was stolen from the auto of Rich Hamilton, 3001 Myrtle Ave., parked at his home, it was reported Monday.

MARRIED Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lee Huffaker, who were married in an evening ceremony at Grace Baptist Church. The bride is the former Frances Lenore Welty, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Welty, 2240 Lincoln Ave.

East Bank Players seek new members

East Bank Players, Inc. the community's only non-profit theater organization, is seeking new members in preparation of two upcoming productions.

Mrs. Gene Cassy, Players' president, announced today

At a meeting of the theatrical troupe last week, the group selected the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Oklahoma," for presentation in November.

"The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch," a western melodrama by James Rosenberg, is scheduled for production this summer with performances in late August or early September, Mrs. Cassy said.

Open house honors Kellee Blochberger

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Blochberger, 39 Moorland Drive, hosted an open house this week in honor of their daughter, Kellee, 13, upon her confirmation at Concordia Lutheran Church.

A luncheon was served by the host couple. Many gifts were presented to the honoree by her relatives and friends.

Persons interested in various aspects of theater work are being encouraged to learn more about the organization by calling Mrs. Cassy at 877-8753. Tryout dates for the western melodrama have not yet been set. An announcement of auditions will be made shortly, the Players' president advised.

YOUNG WOMAN HURT

140 women at Mass, breakfast

About 140 women received Holy Communion as a unit at an 8 a.m. Mass at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, followed by breakfast served by members of the Holy Name Society, under the direction of Glen Gibson, president.

Dr. Felicia D. Koch, a past Mother of the Year, was the guest speaker at the breakfast. Her topic was "Motherhood."

She related her experiences as a physician and a mother, noting the differences and problems that mothers of today are finding, as opposed to those of previous generations.

The Rt. Rev. Magr. Lawrence J. Mattingly, pastor, expressed his appreciation to Alister Society members and others in the parish for assistance provided the church.

Both Dr. Koch and Father Mattingly were introduced by Mrs. Mary Blankenship, Alister Society president. She also presented Dr. Koch a Blue Spruce evergreen as a token of ## appreciation.

Four young girls taking their first Holy Communion with the women received religious necklaces from the society after leading the procession to the altar. They were Debbie Polach, Angie Diak, Linda Kuberski, and Mary Huckle.

Petunia centerpieces were awarded to Mesdames Ann Palagrove, Dot Hanne, Judy Bequette, Sue Kullila, Opal Lohr, Martha Kouszek, Gloria Hetzel, Sylvia Winfield, Zeta Bequette, Dorothy Votoupal, Lorraine Kuberski and Sister

CAR STOLEN—AGAIN

The station wagon of Richard Doty, 2470 Center St., was stolen from the 3000 block of State Street about 1:25 p.m. Monday and was recovered by police in the rear parking lot of the Bellemore Village Shopping Center at 6:30 p.m. Monday. It was the second time in 24 hours that the car was stolen and recovered.

Rosella.

Holy cards were distributed to all those attending the Mass and breakfast.

Youthful musicians in recital

The annual recital by piano students of Mrs. Ruth Gibbs and guitar students of Claud Biggs, private music teachers in Granite City, was held this week at Nameki United Methodist Church.

Selections performed by the young people ranged from "Doux Arabesques" by Debussy to the "Liberty Bell March" by John Philip Sousa. Several numbers from "Fiddler on the Roof" by Jerry Block also were among the program features.

Student musicians included Dynette Shrader, Janet Praundorf and Stephanie Ryan, guitarists. A piano duo also was played by the first two girls and the latter girl presented a guitar solo.

Youthful pianists performing, included: Tracy Perkins, Stephen Branding, Jennifer McNeilly, Tommy Keck, Wendy Robertson, Denise Portell, Jill Robertson, Paula Rozycki,

Laura Maddox, Elizabeth Baldwin, Kathy Gilley, Renata Brylak, Rayette Herrin, Beth Hartman, Diane Portell, David Gebhardt, Angela Rozycki, Beth McNeilly, Wally Brylak, Janet Praundorf, Tammy Wilson, Laura Williams and Debbie Gebhardt.

A piano duo also was performed by Laura Chappell and Beverly Tesier.

Firefighting effective but U. S. fire loss record is world's worst

(American Institute of Physics)
The United States has the worst fire-loss record in the world. The annual U.S. toll: about 12,000 deaths; 300,000 serious burn injuries; approximately $3 billion in property damage.

Yet, our fire protection is better than ever — and improving. Why the paradox? "It's our environment that's becoming more flammable," explains physicist Howard Emmons of Harvard University. "We have a high living standard, with an array of appliances, materials and conveniences that are, collectively, potential fire sources." This constantly increasing environmental flammability is in lock step with the improving fire protection. Result: a steady fire-loss record of tragic proportions. Dr. Emmons believes that long-range fire prevention measures should start with consideration of entire systems — a building or room, for example — not individual items. One highly flammable item in an office might be perfectly safe if other materials had a low flammability rating. Yet, several items of low flammability in close proximity could well be highly dangerous. "Every Boy Scout knows that one log won't catch fire by itself. You have to have two, preferably more, to start a campfire. You have to create a flammable system. Unfortunately, that's what we often do to building," Emmons says. The control of environmental flammability logically lies with building codes. Yet, laments Dr. Emmons, few adequate tests exist that ascertain the materials which, safe by themselves, become hazardous when assembled with other materials. "Flammability is a quality of an entire room or building, not single materials," Dr. Emmons stresses. "Ultimately, building codes will have to be written to rate rooms and buildings as a whole, as an entire system." Dr. Emmons presented his views at the spring meeting of The American Physical Society in Washington, D.C. in a paper titled "The Physics of Fire."

His research points to several practical suggestions that would almost certainly save lives. For example, over-window transoms that automatically open during a fire would allow superheated gases to escape and retard the blaze's spread.

Such transoms, Emmons expects, would add precious minutes for escape and for arrival of firefighters.

Another suggestion is to add moisture-absorbing chemicals to wallboard and other construction materials, thus increasing their heat capacity. With increased heat capacity — ability to absorb heat without a large rise in temperature — materials burn more reluctantly, much as a newly cut tree needs more coaxing to ignite than a seasoned log.

Fire retardants added to drapes and other materials would also reduce a system's flammability, cutting chances of ignition while enhancing fire retardation if a blaze does occur.

Once a fire has begun, a critical point in its life is the flashover — a quick, abrupt spread throughout the system.

In one experiment, Dr. Emmons ignited the corner of a room. The blaze burned for almost 10 minutes in the corner, its smoke and superheated gases filling the top half of the room.

At this point, a persons could have crawled to safety, although at level one breath of the smoke and hot gases would have caused serious damage or death.

Then, without warning, flashover occurred. Within five seconds, the entire room became a raging inferno, with escape unlikely.

Because of the flashover hazard, Dr. Emmons cautions against entering a burning room no matter how isolated or innocuous the fire appears.

Among Dr. Emmons' pleas is that more sophisticated methods of testing fireproof materials be devised — and that further research be conducted about what constitutes a fire-safe and fire-retardant environment.

Such continued research, he believes, is a vital necessity if this country's terrible fire-loss record is to be reduced.

Seaman graduates

Navy Seaman Recruit Danny L. Severs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Severs of 801 Fourth St., and whose wife Brenda is the daughter of Mr. Larry Barr of 721 Fourth St., all of Venice, has graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Classes included instruction in seamanship, military regulations, firefighting, close order drill, first aid and Navy history.

A 1973 graduate of Venice High School, he joined the Navy in January 1976.

SUFFERERS HEAD INJURY

Joseph Moore, 18, of 2152 State St., was treated for a head injury and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:35 a.m. Saturday following an accident.

Pain 50:15. "Call upon me in the day of trouble; And I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me." Trouble is sure to come. It may come in various sizes, from very small to very large. Many of our problems we can solve ourselves, but there will be some that only God can help us with.

Does God want to help us? He asks only that we call in the day of trouble. It will help your faith when trouble comes if you call on Him daily, when there is no trouble.

God's answer is positive. I WILL deliver thee! He is not a respecter of persons. He is just, merciful, and understanding to all alike. The scripture text is simple but powerful. If you call on Him, He will deliver thee. Today.

Labor in region praised

The labor force in the St. Louis metropolitan region compares favorably with work forces in 13 other mid-American regions in terms of productivity and speed with which work stoppages end, according to a study released Wednesday by the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

Even with relatively high wages, workers are giving manufacturers an increasing amount of value for their payroll dollars, it was concluded.

"This study was undertaken by our research staff to test the widespread belief that St. Louis is a 'bad' labor area," said Arthur G. Baebler, RCGA director of economic development.

"It shows that we have a more productive labor force, and fewer losses to work stoppages, than many of the regions in this part of the country. We would look even better if we had included urban areas of the Northeast in our survey," he said.

The survey covers St. Louis, Denver, Omaha, Chicago, New Orleans, Memphis, Dallas, Cleveland, Houston, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Tulsa, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

Statistics are based on U.S. Department of Labor figures for periods varying from eight to 23 years. The St. Louis area statistics cover the city and adjoining urban counties.

As measured by average man-days lost per affected worker in a work stoppage, St. Louis compares favorably with nine of 11 cities surveyed for the period 1969-74. The average in the St. Louis region was 16.4 days, compared with 24.5 days in Houston, 25.1 in Kansas City and 19.8 in Atlanta.

From 1967-1974, workers have been idled somewhat longer, but the average of 18.1 man-days lost per worker involved remains in the lower half of the cities covered.

Another indicator of the speed with which labor disputes are settled — average man-days lost per work stoppage — shows St. Louis in the lower half of the cities surveyed for the period 1969-1974, at 700 days. Kansas City employers and workers were losing an average of 18,400 man-days per work stoppage during that period, Chicago, 13,900.

More recently, from 1967 through 1974, the St. Louis average moved up to 9,900 days lost per work stoppage, but that figure was still below the average in Atlanta, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

Average man-days lost per stoppage reflect not only the length of strikes and other disputes but also the size of the work forces involved.

St. Louis area workers ranked high in productivity as shown by the average value added per worker in manufacturing — a figure influenced by age of plant and equipment, type of industry and managerial efficiency.

In 1967-1976, an average of $17,000 was added to the value of the produce for each worker employed in manufacturing. That figure is higher than the average value in Tulsa, Dallas, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Cleveland, Minneapolis, Chicago and New Orleans.

The productivity of the average area worker went up 11.1 per cent from 1968 to 1972 — a greater increase than in nine of the 13 other areas surveyed.

Records of the 1974 average hourly earnings in manufacturing show that wages in the St. Louis region, at $5 an hour, were the third highest of the urban areas surveyed, and up 11.1 per cent from 1959 hourly manufacturing wages. However, there has been more productivity from 1968 to 1972, the St. Louis regional work force numbers nearly one million and constitutes the nation's tenth largest labor market.

Comparisons between St. Louis and other urban areas would be "even more favorable to St. Louis were the cities of the Northeast to be included," it says.

The figures "indicate that labor and management in the St. Louis area appear to work together to resolve differences at an early stage in any dispute," the report says.

APA pet adoption clinic Saturday

A pet adoption clinic will be sponsored by the Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals (APA) from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, adjacent to Gasen Drugs.

Mrs. Mary Ann Loftus, adoption supervisor, said several special animals will be offered Saturday.

A 1-year-old wirehaired dachshund male, black and tan, which will make a good pet for children, will be available, along with a female coon hound (pilot), black with brindle markings. The adult hound is very good with youngsters, Mrs. Loftus said.

Two 3-month-old female pups, a half-collie and a white pup with brown rings around the eyes, also will be offered.

Several cats and kittens will be among the animals available to families.

A purebred adult male Siamese, beige and brown, leads the cat parade at Saturday's clinic, with two litters of kittens, all 8 weeks old.

One litter of long-haired kittens has orange, tiger-striped, black and white and calico-colored kittens. The other litter, all short-haired, has kittens in black, grey and white and dark tabby colors.

The APA is seeking volunteers to help care for the animals at its permanent shelter on the Granite City Army Installation grounds, according to Mrs. Carol Willoughby and Mrs. Marty Bridges, who are serving as co-presidents of the humane group.

During the summer months, high-school-age youths are invited to join the adult volunteer workers. The opportunity also enables younger people to learn more about the care and handling of animals, the two officers said.

Anyone interested in serving as a volunteer worker may contact APA personnel at Saturday's adoption clinic.

"Even if you are not seeking to adopt a pet, we are inviting area residents to visit the center and become acquainted with our program," Mrs. Loftus said.

Mrs. Marsha Shea serves as supervisor at the permanent shelter.

Bicentennial science forum

WISF-FM (88.7), located on the campus of SIUE, will broadcast the third in a series of Bicentennial forums tomorrow at 8:00 a.m. The forums are sponsored by the National Academy of Sciences.

Subject of the broadcast will be "The Use of Knowledge: Frontier Expansion or Inward Development." NSA members will discuss the future directions of science and technology.

While many scientists see their "new frontier" as developing knowledge and technology in unexplored fields, others see development of better controls and management in existing fields as the real challenge of the future.

Members of the Academy of Science will examine such questions as: Is there undue concern about the byproducts and side effects of scientific progress? Is it a result of a temporary imbalance between the speed of developing technology and man's ability to understand and control it? And where should efforts be focused—outward expansion or inward refinement?

Establish scholarships for athletic trainers

The Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night established a scholarship fund to provide $600-per-semester college scholarships to students pursuing careers as athletic trainers.

Joseph Fedora, director of athletics, first proposed the scholarship program at the board's May 4 meeting. It was approved in principle at that time and the administration was requested to prepare a specific program for board action.

Fedora said the program will encourage more students to work as student athletic trainers and enable more of them to attend college to train for a professional career in the field.

He proposed that money from the athletic injury funds of both schools, plus fees from the physical examinations of athletes, be used to finance the program.

Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr. has offered to conduct physical examinations of athletes at a $5 fee to each. He then would donate that money to the scholarship fund.

Dr. Wilkins has indicated he feels other doctors in this area would be willing to do the same to help encourage more students to train as medical athletic trainers.

Fedora estimated that about 1,000 physical examinations could be given each year, making about $5,000 available annually for scholarships.

It is estimated that amount would allow four students to have the scholarships for one year each or allow eight half-year scholarships to be granted.

Applicants for the scholarships would be required to have served a minimum of two years as a student athletic trainer while in high school, thus encouraging more high school students to volunteer as trainers.

Local students will be given priority in considering scholarship applications, it was noted.

Applicants also must be enrolled in a nearby college and must arrange their schedules to be available to the high schools no later than 3:30 p.m. daily. Each must be willing to attend evening athletic contests and travel with the teams as requested. A minimum of 1,000 hours work under a certified trainer is among the requirements for certification.

The board approved beginning the program immediately and voted to transfer $2,500 from the Granite City High School South athletic medical fund to the new trainer scholarship fund.

It was noted that the money in the athletic medical fund is a portion of money raised by concession stands and does not involve tax funds.

Applications for the trainer scholarships are to be considered by a scholarship committee of the high school principals, high school athletic directors, a local medical doctor, Trainer Randy Biggerstaff and a member of the Board of Education.

The board selected Harold Davis to serve as the board representative on the committee.

The committee will make recommendations to the Board of Education, which then will award the scholarships as funds permit.

Twin 30-lap feature car races Saturday

Two defending Tri-City Speedway track champions head the list of point standings going into this Saturday's announced twin 30-lap feature racing program. Racing will start at 7 p.m.

Following last Saturday's rain-out late model and sportsman stock car racing events, Promoter Ed Bloom announced that drivers of both classes will compete in 30-lap main events in addition to regular heat races.

Russ Wallace, last year's late model (third) and his son, Matt, defending sportsman class champion, are leading the point standings in their classes. Both are from Arnold, Mo.

The elder Wallace has earned 743 points and trailing are Bill

Myers of East Alton with 715, C. Corcoran of East Alton 685, Norm Cox of Berkeley, Mo., 590, Tom White of St. Louis 495, Bill Laycock of Granite City 460, Mike Hammerle of St. Charles, Mo., 450, Billy Collins of Elsberry, Mo., 425, Ralph Knox of High Ridge, Mo., 385, and Don Carter of Hillsboro, Ill., with 330 points.

Mike Wallace leads other sportsman drivers with 625 points, followed by Granite Cityan Chuck Milam with 415, Louman Kris Krohn 395, Granite Cityan Dean Aerne 390, St. Louisan Tim Allen 365, Granite City's Jack Yates 345, Larry Yates 335 and Don Alfaro 335, and Missouri's Bill Reid, 285 points.

Legionnaires to begin '76 baseball campaign

American Legion baseball is preparing to open the 1976 season this month with 12 teams competing in District 22 league action, including Tri-City Post 113 and Glen Carbon Post 435.

Competing also this season will be Collinsville, Alton, East St. Louis, Cahokia, Fairview Heights, Edwardsville, Highland, O'Fallon, Belleville and Macoupin.

GCHS South baseball mentor Conrad "Babe" Champion again leads the Post 113 squad, which posted a 19-9 record last year in Legion competition.

Comprised mainly of South High players, Post 113 is slated to start its season on Thursday, May 27, with a 6 p.m. non-league game at Alton.

Macoupin is new to the league. It replaces Venice Madison Post 307, which will not field a team this season.

Glen Carbon's Legionnaires are headed by Granite Cityans Art Jovi and Ron Madden. Madden for the past two years was coach of the successful Granite City Braves team, which competed in a traveling league.

Glen Carbon had a 5-15 record in 1975. Composed of GCHS North and South players, with additions of athletes picked up from the former Post 307 squad and colleges, Post 435 starts its

Cougars first in 5 of 7 sports

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville received an award in five of the seven sports at the SLCAA's annual awards luncheon Monday in St. Louis. Awards were presented to the winners of each of the sports. In baseball, the Cougars led for the championship with the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

SIUE won the championship in SLCAA's first division soccer, tennis, golf and cross country.

SIUE Athletic Director Bob Guehr accepted the awards for the baseball, golf and soccer teams. Cross County Coach John Flanner was on hand to accept the awards in that sport and Bob Nunez, a member of the Cougars tennis team, accepted the award for Coach Ken DeMars.

In a meeting of athletic directors before the luncheon, Don McCreight, athletic director at Washington University, was named the SLCAA president. Chuck Smith, University of Missouri-St. Louis athletic director, was named secretary. Smith had been the conference's president until this year.

Paddlers to open May 29

Paddlers Swim Club, 2121 Johnson Road, will open its 1976 summer swimming season at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 29. It was announced this week by Jerry Range, Paddlers president. Twenty members of the club's board of directors met Monday evening in the library at St. Elizabeth Hospital to make plans for the coming summer months and hear progress reports on readying the two-pool facility for opening day. A possible setback in preparing the pool for immediate use was reported by Range, who said necessary repairs are being started this week to remedy guttering around the pool. Board members were advised at an earlier meeting that repairs would be required to halt underground leakages from the pool. Bids for repair work, estimated to cost about $10,000, have been sought. C. D. Peters of C. D. Peters Construction Co., general contractors of Granite City, attended and said work on the pool will start immediately, with the project to take about 10 days if weather conditions remain favorable. "With good weather and some luck we hope to have the second pool ready for use on opening day," a board member said. The new recreation building at the pool site with football and ping pong to be offered among other games. A juke box has been installed. Mrs. Gail McCormick, program chairman, and Mrs. Helen DeHuntz reviewed a schedule of activities for the coming season. Many events are planned, including: June 17 - Pre-teen party; June 17 - Free swim night for St. Elizabeth Hospital Cystitis; July 4 - Plantation Dinner; Theater trip for members, costing $20 per couple July 24 - Teen party and Aug. 21 - Adult party and barbecue at the pool, with live music by the Starlighters.

WRESTLING MEET CHAMPION

Cougars in baseball regional

Coach Roy Lee is hoping it will be Luck Seven for him and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team this time. For the seventh straight year, Lee's Cougar baseball team has qualified to play in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division II post-season midweek regional tournament. The Cougars received their bid Monday after waiting out the weekend and a doubleheader split with McKendree College at Springfield, which will host the finals again this year. The Cougars are hitting .312 as a team. The top hitters are: Mike Brown (.352), Don Broadway (.346), Pat Scholz (.333), Tim Twilman and Bill Lee (both with .315), John Urban (.309), Jack Scarborough and Dave Schaake (both with .277), and Don Lagne (.269). Subs and their averages are: Greg (.400) McBride, Steve (.667) Novak, Kent (.304) Wells, Bob (.214) Wilber, and Randy (.571) Manley. The SIUE mound staff has a combined earned run average of 2.60. On the basis of recent competition, the most effective Cougar hurlers are: Dennis (3-3 and 3.40 ERA) Osterbur; Jerry (4-4 and 3.40 ERA) Denti; Steve (2-2 and 2.65 ERA) Ashby; Greg (3-3 and 2.45 ERA) Wolk; Larry (4-1 and 3.26 ERA) Moore; and chief reliever Sam (1-0 and 1.71 ERA) Pastwotch. It is a double elimination tournament. The schedule also calls for games Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Monday, May 24, has been designated as "rain day." Friday's schedule: 10 a.m. — losers of game one and two; 1 p.m. — winner of game No. 1 vs. loser of game No. 3; 4 p.m. — winners of games No. 2 and No. 3. Saturday's and Sunday's schedule depends on the first two days' results. The Cougars own victories this season over Evansville, Eastern Illinois, Western Illinois and Wright State. SIUE didn't play Valparaiso this season, but through the years (all in regional tournaments), the two schools have split four games. SIUE also lost once to Evansville and twice to Western. In 1972, the Cougars posted their best season when they finished third in the nation in the championship series at Springfield, which will host the finals again this year. The Cougars are hitting .312 as a team. The top hitters are: Mike Brown (.352), Don Broadway (.346), Pat Scholz (.333), Tim Twilman and Bill Lee (both with .315), John Urban (.309), Jack Scarborough and Dave Schaake (both with .277), and Don Lagne (.269). Subs and their averages are: Greg (.400) McBride, Steve (.667) Novak, Kent (.304) Wells, Bob (.214) Wilber, and Randy (.571) Manley. The SIUE mound staff has a combined earned run average of 2.60. On the basis of recent competition, the most effective Cougar hurlers are: Dennis (3-3 and 3.40 ERA) Osterbur; Jerry (4-4 and 3.40 ERA) Denti; Steve (2-2 and 2.65 ERA) Ashby; Greg (3-3 and 2.45 ERA) Wolk; Larry (4-1 and 3.26 ERA) Moore; and chief reliever Sam (1-0 and 1.71 ERA) Pastwotch.

Trojans ready for district

Friedman to address Grand Lodge Masons

The Illinois Grand Lodge rededication breakfast for 1976, which will take place at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the Belle-Claire Fairgrounds near Highway 139 and 480, Belleville, will be addressed by Joseph Friedman, former Madisonian who heads the Chromalloy American Corporation.

The breakfast traditionally attracts between 1,000 and 2,000 Masons.

Friedman was born in Philadelphia in 1906 and several years later his family moved to Madison, where he received his primary and high school education. Thereafter for ten years he pursued and completed courses in law and accounting and engineering.

His business experience is broad and covers the entire spectrum of business functions and responsibilities. From 1936 to the present, Chromalloy American Corp. chairman and chief executive officer, 1939-56, U.S. Hoffman Machinery Corp. executive vice-president and director, 1953-56, Rand Box Corp., St. Louis, vice-president and general manager, and 1952 to the present, E. A. Friedman Co., Madison furniture and hardware firm, director and vice-president.

Joseph Friedman was presented with the Community Service Award by the Jewish Theological Seminary in 1954. He received the Public Service Award of the American Medical Center at Denver in 1971. He has been given the title "commendatore" by the Italian government, its highest civil award.

Friedman was the recipient of the 1975 Albert Einstein Award from the American Society for Technion.

He is chairman of the Chromalloy Kidney Center at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis as well as a member of the boards of directors of Weismann Institute of Science, as well as a member of the boards of directors of Weismann Institute.

of Science, the American Medical Center at Denver, and the Kidney Foundation of Missouri and Metro-East. He is also a member of the American Society for Technion.

In addition to those activities, he is a member of the Fraternity Club of New York, Wings Club of New York, B'nai B'rith, Missouri Athletic Club of St. Louis, and Meadowbrook Country Club of St. Louis.

Associates note that Friedman did not inherit his position in business and community affairs, but earned the rewards of his own efforts by continuing his education while industriously supporting his growing family.

He has constantly pursued knowledge in every area and subject that might improve conditions not only for himself but for others as well, friends say. Time has commented.

He is most sensitive to the needs of those less fortunate, and accordingly responds with great generosity of his knowledge and experience, as well as his time and personal financial support.

His belief in an individual's value and esteem goes beyond the recognition and reward of those talents and efforts.

"He has the ability to recognize the latent qualities and skills that one's own self is not aware of, and he continues to project that image to an individual until the image becomes an apparent and absolute reality."

"Mr. Friedman sincerely and actively believes that America is unsurpassed by any other country in our greatest natural resource: the people who live here and claim America as their own."

He is deeply grateful for the unlimited opportunities offered to all who are willing to diligently work to earn the rewards and rights of those opportunities.

"At the same time, he is conscientiously aware of the obligations each citizen must exercise to assure that the freedoms which were declared and secured for this country 200 years ago are never relinquished or reduced to a shabby imitation of what they were meant to be by those from whom we have inherited our freedoms."

Baccalaureate services at St. Margaret Mary

A baccalaureate service will be held Sunday at St. Margaret Mary Church during an 8:45 a.m. mass in honor of graduating seniors.

Those participating in the service will be seniors that graduated four years ago from St. Margaret Mary School. This class is the first to have attended St. Margaret Mary School for a full eight years.

Graduating seniors from Granite City High School South are Jo Anne, Chris Barger, Nancy Bezan, Jerome Boyer, Robert Brewer, Joseph Fedora, Linda Graklanoff, Cindy Hoelter, Diane James, Cheryl Kelly, Richard Kelly, Paula Kobi, Anita Landman, Daniel Lawrence, John McCard, Diane Parente, Edward Pragna, Mary Rubbing, Charles Ruth, Margaret Schefke, Alan

Schuler, Larry Tegel, Rhonda Zeier, Karen Voegele, and Linda Wiseman. Graduating seniors from North are Jayne Harding and Mary Anne Kamadulski. The officiating priest will be Father Richard Vogt, a Jesuit from St. Louis University.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL
Mrs. Linda Zentgraf, 28, of 2109 Cottage Ave., was injured in an auto accident at Nameoki and Pontoon roads and went to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:30 p.m. Monday. She suffered a bump to the left side of her head and bruises to both elbows and both knees. X-rays were taken and she was admitted for observation of a head injury.

Jacobsmeier's theft solved

Reports of a man who had been bragging in a tavern about burglarizing Jacobsmeier's Tavern, 2401 Edwards St., early this week led police to arrest a 43-year-old Granite City man at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday for questioning.

The man, who once was employed at the tavern, allegedly admitted entering the building and removing cash from a pot in the refrigerator.

Police said the man returned all but $100 of the stolen cash to Von Dee Cruise, the tavern's owner, and agreed to make restitution for the money he had spent.

With the agreement of Cruise and the Madison County State's Attorney Office, police charged the man with disorderly conduct and he agreed to undergo psychiatric counseling.

An earlier article on the burglary appears on page 43 of today's Press-Record.

Miss Perdue to speak at Assumption commencement

Twenty-four members of the class of '76 of Assumption High School have been recognized for academic excellence. The following are honor graduates from this area: David Hylla, Michael McLanahan, Mark Huesing and Richard Tutka, all of Madison, and Patricia Perdue and Bryant Snee, both of Granite City.

Bryant Snee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Snee, has received an academic scholarship from Washington University in St. Louis. Miss Perdue, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Perdue, has been awarded two scholarships, one from St. Louis University and another from Washington University. Because of her outstanding high school achievements, Miss Perdue has been selected as one of the two student speakers who will address their fellow graduates and guests at the graduation ceremony, which will take place on Sunday, May 23, at 4:30 p.m. at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in Belleville.

She will consider the "Gifts of the Past" in her address and Alan Willmont, the second speaker, will discuss the "Promises of the Future." Willmont has a four-year

HURT ON MOTORCYCLE Ronald Carich, 17, of 47 Shirlwin Drive, Arlington Heights, was injured in a motorcycle accident and went to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:30 p.m. Monday. He was admitted with abrasions to his right knee, both hands and to his abdomen. X-rays were taken.

Lake PTA honors teacher

Lake School PTA accorded special honors to Mrs. Florence Van Houten, a teacher who is retiring after 42 years of service at the old Liberty School and at Lake, during the final meeting of the school term Tuesday night.

"Mrs. Van," as she is affectionately known, was greeted by former principals Richard Barnett and Art Menendez, and Edward Gonwa, current Lake principal, who extended his appreciation for her "team spirit" during past years.

PTA president Pat Withers presented Mrs. Van Houten with a corsage and an engraved silver pendant necklace.

An installation of new officers was held after a short business meeting, during which PTA members approved sponsoring a Junior Girl Scout troop.

Mrs. Phyllis Curran, District 29 director for Madison-Jersey counties, served as the installing officer for Mrs. Dorothy Phelps, president; Pat Withers, vice-president; Mrs. Phyllis Wiggins, secretary; and David Johnson, treasurer.

Entertainment was provided by the sixth grade pupils, who presented a medley of readings and songs, including "America," "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Dedication to Mrs. Van."

Mrs. Evelyn Fedora and Jon Mullins, counselors at Grigby Junior High School, discussed

Sweet Adelines install in GC

The Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. held its annual installation of officers last week in the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

Mrs. Doris Sanford served as installing officer in the impressive ceremony.

Ramona Burnett arranged the bi-centennial installation with each of the following officers receiving a miniature American flag: President Louise Blew; vice President Evelyn Stark; Corresponding Secretary Jo Healy; Recording Secretary Judy Holtzsch; and Treasurer Pat Durer.

George Holtzsch, chorus

director, served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Helen Grob, retiring president, announced Donna Ennes as "Sweet Adeline of the Year."

Collinsville Chapter is one of 21 chapters in Region 5. At the regional competition in St. Louis, the chorus received fifth place. The Note-A-Belle Arrangement and the Gateway Sounds, two quartets within the chorus, placed sixth and 11th, respectively.

ENGAGED. Miss Teddi Mitchell and Ralph F. Reeder Jr., of Granite City, whose engagement and plans for an August wedding are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitchell of Marion, Ill.

Reeder-Mitchell engagement

The engagement of Miss Teddi Mitchell and Ralph F. Reeder Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Reeder Sr., 2148 Myrtle Ave., is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitchell, Rural Route Five, Marion, Ill.

A 1973 graduate of Marion Senior High School, Miss

Mitchell is presently a junior at the University of Illinois.

Her fiancé is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School and is a junior pre-medical student at the University of Illinois.

Plans are being completed by the betrothed couple for an Aug. 7 wedding.

Theta Theta luncheon for mothers

Theta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, hosted a luncheon this week honoring the mothers of members.

Thirty-two attended the event held in the home of Mrs. Phyllis Talley 2753 Sunset Drive.

A special program, "Song of the Season," was presented by Linda Green, Joyce Tracey and Ellen Brokaw. A picture sketched during the presentation was awarded to Dorothy Kerch.

The chapter's scrapbook, which won second place in state competition and first among local chapter entries, was displayed and presented to Mrs. Diverse the retiring president.

Potted house plants were given to the guests as favors.

At a regular meeting of Theta Theta held last week, in the home of Mrs. Linda Yates, 18 Nassau St., members brought along various antique items of personal value and meaning to their own family.

Among the memorabilia exhibited were fruit jars, a christening gown, dolls, jewelry, crystal and dishes.

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Brokaw were in charge.

Along with the 1976 theme, Mrs. Martha Gianakos wore a Martha Washington-style gown and gave a biographical sketch of one of the most famous women in U. S. history.

'Exemplar Day' hosted by chapter

"Let Heritage Ring" was the theme followed at 'Exemplar Day,' hosted by Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi last week at the home of Mrs. Jane Laule.

Special guests were members of Preceptor Omega Chapter from Alton, represented by Donna "Sandy" Mavis Hunt, Shirley Tovo, Irene Berghoff, Elsie Gobel, Elsie Johann and Earlene Miller.

The salad serving table held appointments conforming to the heritage theme and was centered with a bouquet of spring flowers. A companion dessert table also held a centerpiece of spring blossoms.

Each of the guests was presented a "pet rock" as a memento.

Entertainment included a humorous fashion show with garments modeled by Preceptor Beta Gamma members, Lou Lombardi, Bev Brackett, Pat Tuglaroff, Ruth Stoyanoff, Arlene Halderman, Betty Elzing, Norma Rausa, Evelyn Tolliver, Debra Dorich and the hostess.

To conclude the program, a forum was conducted on ways and means projects and suggestions were exchanged for service and social activities.

Terrie Poore is shower honoree

A miscellaneous bridal shower comprising Miss Terrie Poore was given this week by Mrs. Zola Burgess, 2544 Stratford Lane.

The bride-elect will be married June 19 at Dennis Solberg.

A miniature bride and bridesmaid figures were among the party decorations. Wedding bells and an umbrella were suspended above the gift and refreshment tables, in colors chosen by the honoree. Many gifts were received by Miss Poore.

The guest list included Mrs. Leona Poore, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. Peggy Smithberger, mother of the groom-elect; and Mesdames Kay Fiske, Sandy Lane, Mary Sparks, Rachel Larsen, Sally Martal, Sherry Wilson, Stella Juracek, Evelyn Solberger, Janice Patton, Theresa Strid, Adele Mason, Jackie Solberger, Jonita Fernandez, Susan Brake, Myra Bus, Pam Pamela Shannon, Laura Dyer, Jeanne Leven, Glenda Moore.

Await state guidance on bargaining

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees indicated after its May meeting, that it will not consider whether to recognize a faculty bargaining process while state enabling legislation is pending.

An information hearing was conducted at the close of the May 13 board meeting.

The hearing was the second of two informational sessions conducted by the board. The first was held at the conclusion of the April meeting of the board in Carbondale, where testimony was given by 10 groups and individuals.

At Thursday's session, testimony was presented by Dickie Spurgeon, president of the Faculty Organization for Collective Bargaining (FOCB) at SIUE, Robert Hildebrand, president-elect of the FOCB, Louis W. Sprandel, past-president of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers, R. N. Pendegrass, president of the SIUE chapter of the American Association of University Professors; Robin Roberts, an SIUE student and former president of the student body; and Jim Grandone, also an SIUE student.

The FOCB officers charged the board with delaying consideration of collective bargaining and said their organization will begin efforts toward "defacto bargaining with the Edwardsville administration and the board."

Sprandel said the policy of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers states that "the concepts of professionalism and unionism are basically incompatible, and the public welfare is best served through reliance upon professional concepts — concepts which are free of the yoke of unionism."

Pendegrass said he believes

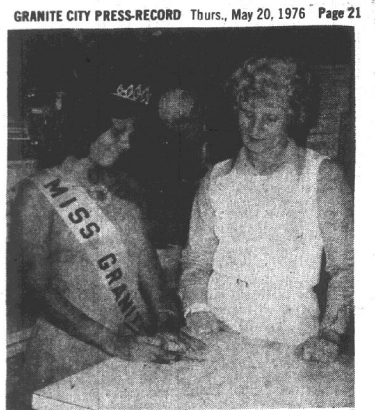

"the faculty members themselves are entitled to exercise their discretion as to whether or not they wish to engage in collective negotiations." He urged "early progress toward a resolution of the collective bargaining issue at Edwardsville."

Roberts presented a number of questions for the board's consideration which he said are designed to help the board "comprehend all incidents which have brought us to this point in time." Roberts said "My concern is for the student, the institution and for higher education. I want what is best for all."

Grandone said he sympathizes with "any individual or groups seeking to improve their working conditions and salary. However, I cannot support initiatives which succeed only in taking from one to give to another."

"The most disheartening fact of all is that students by far over any other group, professional or non-professional, are the losers in the collective bargaining process. Collective bargaining deals students a tremendous political setback."

Program on River Fest at Kiwanis meet

Tuition schedule

The Mississippi River Festival has grown from 80,000 people in attendance in 1967 to more than 250,000 in 1975, according to Marshall Schroeder, who spoke to the Evening Kiwanis club at its meeting Tuesday in Charlie's Restaurant.

Schroeder showed a slide presentation on the festival and noted that with advance reservations, the food service will provide almost any type of meal a group of 30 or more would want.

The festival features something for everyone in a wide variety of programs ranging from hard rock to concert symphonies, country western and family entertainment, the speaker said. Both the St. Louis and Chicago Symphonies will perform this summer.

Four Kiwanians from the Bunker Hill club attended the meeting. Wives of the Kiwanians were guests.

Students will be unable to obtain deferments if they have any unpaid obligations at the university. Accounts receivable items range from unpaid parking tickets and overdue books to past-due short-term loans.

All of the debts will have to be cleared at the Bursar's office before a deferment will be issued by the Student Work and Financial Assistance office. Students having verification that they will be receiving financial aid will be able to receive a deferment upon agreeing to pay all accounts receivable debts when they receive their financial aid.

Students wishing to obtain deferment must apply in person at the SWFA office and must bring a No. 3 card. Those registering at open registration also must submit their fee assessment cards.

Costs—including the sewer tax, a $25 one-time inspection fee at the time of the connection, and a monthly operation-maintenance estimated at $4. Connecting the home to the lateral also will be a cost.

Plan preparation and arrangement of state-federal grants have covered a period of years, extending the project until now.

Partly because the figures are estimates, there is confusion among some people over details of the project and its monetary impact. Partly because of misinformation given by certain individuals and publications, a degree of general misunderstanding has developed.

Reduction in the projected sewer tax rate after first-year costs are met and also in subsequent years as the community's financial base expands.

An Illinois Environmental Protection Agency voice in that various treatment and operational costs will be reasonable and comparable for all who are served.

Design advances assure that new sanitary sewer lines will be water-tight and long-lasting.

Price backing public works employment law

Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., Ill.) this week described the Local Public Works Employment Act as a "badly-needed economic stimulant to our immediate local area."

The bill, which passed the House of Representatives May 13 by an overwhelming margin, 328-67, provides for $2.5 billion to be authorized for 100 per cent federal grants to be used on public works projects on the state and local level, Rep. Price said.

"Of particular interest to our own area is the fact that approval priority of the grants will be given to areas of high unemployment and to local government projects," Price said.

"For example, when the national unemployment rate is 6.3 per cent or more, first priority would be given to applications submitted by state or local governments having unemployment rates above the national average."

"Second priority would be given to areas with rates above 6.3 per cent but below the national rate. 70 per cent of the appropriated funds would go to projects in areas with a higher than-national rate, while areas with high construction unemployment also would be given special consideration."

Cong. Price explained that although no dollar amounts have been set as yet, the legislation requires that at least 3 per cent but not more than 10 per cent of the total appropriation may be granted in any one state.

He said further that the grants would be approved by the secretary of Commerce only on projects which could begin work within 90 days of approval. Eligible projects would include construction and improvements of water and sewer lines, sewage treatment facilities, schools, police and fire stations and municipal buildings.

"I am particularly pleased with this legislation, which not only shows Congress' concern in getting the unemployed back to work, but also a realization of the impact of a high unemployment rate on local areas."

"I see the Act as a positive step toward the goals of full employment and better understanding among federal, state and local governments," Price concluded.

The legislation will be taken to a House-Senate conference to resolve differences between this bill and the version which passed the Senate last month.

New $1 bus pass offered

Superpass, a new Bi-State bus pass selling for $1 a week, will be offered this summer to all young people age 19 and under. Robert J. Baer, executive director, Bi-State Development Agency, has announced.

Superpass will be honored on Bi-State buses during all hours and days of operation beginning June 7 through Labor Day, Sept. 6, 1976.

"Superpass is a unique plan to provide youth with economical transportation as well as a real incentive to consider transit as an alternative to the private automobile," Baer said.

Once purchased, the pass will allow the holder an unlimited number of rides on regular Bi-State local and express buses without having to pay base fares or additional zone and transfer charges.

However, Superpass will not be honored on special services such as the St. Louis Shuttle, Race Track, Municipal Opera, Red Bird, Big Red, and Six Flags Express lines.

Sale of the passes will begin June 1 at many regular Bi-State Weekly Pass outlets in Missouri and Illinois. In addition, numerous schools holding summer sessions, all St. Louis City and County YWCAs, and other community organizations have agreed to sell Superpass.

Purchasers will be asked to provide proof of age.

"Summer school, jobs, recreational activities, movies, concerts, sightseeing and sporting events are just a few activities for which Superpass might be used," Baer noted.

"Whatever their destination, we encourage young people to use Superpass to get there."

Superpass, while in effect, will replace the 10-ride student ticket and the Illinois Student Identification Card both of which will be resumed after Labor Day.

Mailbox Improvement Week

"Mailbox Improvement Week," a traditional spring observance which contributes to improved security and appearance of the nation's nearly 24 million mailboxes, is being observed this week, Postmasters Herbert Backs, of Granite City, William Clinton of Madison and William Singleton of Venice said today.

Held annually, this event has long served as the starting signal for community efforts to repair, repaint and make other improvements to the nation's approximately 24 million rural, curb-line and star route mailboxes, they said.

Hospital notes

Patients admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital May 12:

Cynthia Forehand, 3088 E. 23rd, Wilma Jean Sartin, 4201 Kirkpatrick, Pamela Dixon, 2416 Edwards, apt. A; Ruth Gorrell, 2834 Palmer; Naomie Machon, Ier. Rural mail service began in 1896. In those days many makeshift receptacles were used as mailboxes. One favorite was a tin can nailed to a tree. Today, manufacturers provide a variety of modern mailbox designs for use with decorative posts in cooperation with the Postal Service, the postmasters said.

"Customers who prefer other designs than the traditional mailbox may check with us for a list of manufacturers making approved optional designs," they said.

Retired persons observe Senior Citizens Month

The American Association of Retired Persons celebrated Senior Citizens Month with its annual dinner dance at the Christian Hall, Madison Dinner was served at 6 p.m. and dancing followed with music by the Duke Dudley Band. About 200 seniors were present.

During intermission, Mrs. Vera Law, president of the local AARP chapter awarded prizes to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Michels for the longest married couple, having been married 10 years.

Brownie, Girl Scout banquet

Brownie Troop 343 and Junior Girl Scout Troop 313 of Parkview School held a spaghetti banquet for their families last week. There were 140 scouts and family members in attendance at the dinner which was held at St. Margaret Mary Church hall.

A flag ceremony by Ellen Secoria, Lori Detweiler, Jillian Range, Mary Ellen McIlroy and Denise Nuemeyer opened the program and the invocation was given by Mrs. Agnes Fryztko, principal of Parkview School.

Entertainment for the dinner was provided by the Steel City Belles Pom-Pom Squad of Granite City High School North. Robert D. Todoroff, band director at the North High School, introduced their program.

Following the entertainment, the scouts participated in an invitational fly-up, dedication and awards ceremony. The program concluded with a candlelight service with the girls repeating the Girl Scout promise and laws.

Special guests were Mrs. Roberta Ponder, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Phyllis Ryan, Brownie consultant; and Mrs. Mary Modica, neighborhood organizer.

Brownies attending were Tracy Hagenstett, Angela Fish, D'Na Hankins, Wendy Knoll, Kaitlyn Lewis, Valerie Winkley, Andrea Barton, Christy Blumensack, Cindy Brudick, Kim Jergen, Shannon Kinnerly, Lisa Lempi, Nancy Modica, Maria Smalove, Trisha Barry, Dawn Blumensack, Edith Marler, Ann Marti, Jennifer Sobolewski, Lisa Jones and their leaders, Mrs. Barbara Brownie consultant and Mrs. Mary Modica, neighborhood organizer.

historian; Mrs. Margaret Bell, treasurer; and Mrs. Barbara Williams, secretary. Mrs. Meier will serve as chaplain.

The retiring regent, Mrs. Ruth McCarty, president over the meeting and conducted the opening ritual. She also discussed the president general's message for the month of May.

Mrs. Ella Ray Smith presented several national defense topics, dealing with the proposed unionization of the Armed Forces, the harnessing of weather conditions to aid science and the proper use of voting privileges.

Thank you notes were read from three DAR schools for donations made to them in memory of deceased chapter members.

Official notice was received from a slate of NSDAR members who are campaigning for election to national offices next April. This slate was informally presented to Illinois Daughters, who made the bus trip to the Continental Congress last month, by one of the candidates on the return trip to Illinois.

Mrs. Paul G. Meyer from Springfield is a candidate for the office of recording secretary general.

A discussion of DAR Days, at which the local chapter will serve as hostesses, next September, was briefly covered. Additional information is being sought from the DAR state officers.

Others in attendance at the meeting were Mrs. Mamie Frohardt, Mrs. Joann Burdick and Mrs. D. Reva Turner.

Final concert of Elementary Chorus

The Elementary School Chorus will present its final concert of the year on Tuesday, May 25, at 7:30 p.m. at Maryville School. All parents and friends are invited to attend.

The chorus is under the direction of Mrs. Mary Jan Fester, vocal teacher at Parkview School and Frohardt School, and Mrs. Patricia Michaeloff, vocal teacher at Marshall School and vocal music specialist.

The chorus will sing "Hey! Ho! Anybody Home - a round, The Lord He Made the Earth and Sky - Steeth, The Earth is the

Return to old pet licensing proposed

"The present system of dog and cat licensing in the county is bulky and unmanageable and the county could save more than $18,000 per year by returning to its former system," Dan Partney, a member of the Madison County Board's Animal Control Committee, commented Tuesday.

Partney said he has asked that committee to consider returning to a system in which veterinarians sell county license tags when they give inoculations. The committee will consider Partney's proposal further at its May 28 meeting.

Partney proposes that each veterinarian purchase a supply of dog and cat license tags for $2 each from the county and sell the tags to the owner of the animal when it is inoculated against rabies.

Under the present system, veterinarians send one form to the county, informing the county the animal has received its shot, and a second form is given to the owner of the animal, he said.

The owner then is expected to complete his form and mail it to the county with the $2 license fee. The county then mails the license tag to the owner.

If a form is received from the veterinarian, but none from the dog owner, the county sends the owner a letter informing him he must comply and have the animal licensed.

If the owner still does not comply, the case is turned over to the Madison County state's attorney's staff, which sets a court date and issues a subpoena for the owner to appear in court.

A Madison County sheriff's deputy must then hand-deliver the subpoena to the dog owner.

Partney said that returning the obligation of selling the tags to the veterinarians could save the county the salary of one secretary who works full-time on the paperwork involved in the program.

It also could save the cost of processing court cases by the state's attorney's office and the sheriff's department, he said.

"I know this idea is not going to be popular with the veterinarians, but it is the only sensible way to manage the program.

"We are wasting thousands of taxpayer dollars shuffling papers and the county just does not have that kind of money to spend," Partney said, adding, "We know this proposed system works because we used to do it this way."

When the program first was established to meet the state animal control law of 1974, the county called for a $4 per animal registration fee. Numerous objections from the public caused the board to reduce the fee to $2.

During the 1975-76 fiscal year, the fee raised $50,128 when 95 per cent of those having their animals inoculated paid the fee and returned the appropriate forms.

The other five per cent either were the targets of litigation or cannot be found, he related.

Of the $50,128 collected, one-third, or $16,709, was placed in an escrow fund used to reimburse the owners of livestock killed by dogs or other animals. The remaining $33,419 went into the county's general fund.

The animal control program is funded through the general fund and contingencies account. This year's budget is $78,786.

Partney said he believes the program can be brought closer into line with its income if the obligation to sell license tags is returned to veterinarians.

In the past, most veterinarians charged a service fee for selling the tags. The committee is considering whether such a fee should be allowed if the program is resumed.

"Any way we go, someone is going to be unhappy. But I think the taxpayers would be unhappy if they knew how much money was being wasted trying to manage the present system," Partney concluded.

School Gifted Program Kiwanis meeting topic

The Gifted Program of the Granite City School District 9 gives help to the extraordinary child as the Remedial Program gives help to children with a learning problem, according to Allen Crider.

Crider, director of the Gifted Program for Granite City schools, spoke at a meeting of the Breakfast Kiwanis club held in Charlie's restaurant.

participate in the program are general intelligence, specific academic achievement, creativity, leadership, psychomotor ability, visual and performing arts.

Most school districts, including Granite City, according to Crider, use the first two categories to identify the students.

Bunick guidelines in selection include recommendation by classroom teachers, test scores and parents permission.

When children are accepted they are given tests to determine where their interests are. Some of the funds allowed provide in-service workshops to prepare the teachers to teach the gifted child. Funds also are allowed for materials and supplies requisitioned by the teachers and principals to better prepare the gifted child.

Kiwanian Jack Mulach was the program chairman.

Crider explained that in 1960 the Illinois Office of Education started planning a program by which the state could supplement the school districts and provide them with money for their gifted programs.

Granite City became actively involved in the state program in 1963 and Mrs. Sallie Sowell was the first Gifted Program director.

There are six categories in which students may be identified as gifted and eligible to

Mrs. Dorothy Winter, 56, dies

Mrs. Dorothy E. Winter, 56, of 12310 Boothbay, St. Louis, a former resident and Granite City teacher, died at 2:45 a.m. Tuesday at Jewish Hospital, where she had been hospitalized four months.

Mrs. Winter was graduated with a bachelor's degree in education from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and taught for 19 years in the Granite City School District before moving to St. Louis.

She was first hired as a teacher for the 1942-44 terms, and in September 1955 was hired as a teacher at Frohard School where she remained until retiring June 3, 1972.

Her husband, William E. Winter, is president and chief operating officer of the Seven-Up Co., 121 South Meramec Ave., Clayton.

While residing in this area, Mrs. Winter was an active member of the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

Also surviving are two sons, William C. and Douglas E. Winter, both of St. Louis; a sister, Mrs. Alfred Campbell, Warren, three brothers, Martin Schuester, Collinsville, Charles and Emmet Schuester, both of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Service held for Thomas Nevels, 78

Funeral services were held May 10 at a Dexter, Mo., funeral home for Thomas Everett Nevels, 78, of Dexter, formerly of Granite City.

He died May 7 at the Southeast Missouri Hospital, Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Mr. Nevels resided here almost all of his life before moving to Dexter 10 years ago.

Survivors include five daughters, Clara Adams, Maywood, Calif.; Rita Marshall, Hackett, Ark.; Darlene Lane, McClure, Ill.; Jellene Shaul, Downey, Calif.; and a brother, Grover Nevels, and a sister, Mrs. Ada Collins, both of Granite City; 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Dexter Cemetery.

RADIO STOLEN
A $250 citizens' band radio and a microphone were stolen from the car of Elizabeth Moore, 2149 Cleveland Blvd., parked in her driveway, it was reported at 7:25 a.m. Wednesday. A wire was believed used to unlock the passenger door.

Termination by state of firm at Collinsville

Illinois Public Aid Director James T. Trainor said Tuesday at Springfield that 12 health care providers have been terminated by the department from Medicaid program participation. His list includes Medical Pharmacy, 318 W. Main St., Collinsville; terminated was due to the submission of bills to the Illinois Department of Public Aid and receipt of payment for prescription orders filled by the Gen. Rexall Pharmacy, then and currently suspended by the IDPA for allegedly improper practices. Since January, the state has suspended 60 Medicaid providers, including 29 physicians, 15 pharmacies, a podiatrist, two dentists, 12 clinical laboratories and an optometrist. Trainor said, "Names of all suspended medical providers who are subsequently terminated from Medicaid will be released by the Public Aid Department in accordance with guidelines set for us by former Chicago Alderman Leon Despres." Despres was asked by Governor Daniel Walker to study the public aid policy on disclosure of names of medical vendors suspended by the department in connection with alleged abuses in the Medicaid program. Despres recommended that the names be disclosed following completion of the administrative process and issuance of a final decision by Trainor.

Explorers 'thank' supporters

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
Members of Explorer Post 255, sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Police Department, said "thank you" this week to numerous people and organizations in the area for helping them through their first year of operation.

Nearly 300 persons gathered in the Long Lake Fire Hall to, in turn, honor the young Explorers interested in Law Enforcement. State Senator Sam Vadalabene, (D-Edwardsville) of the 56th Legislative District and main speaker of the evening, said, "As one long concerned with the fine young people of this area, I'm especially gratified that you honored me with the invitation to help celebrate the first birthday of Explorer Post 255.

"Many of you here have shown your confidence in our youth by your support of the post. The Explorers record over the past year shows that they have really earned your backing.

"All of us are concerned about law enforcement today. The establishment of this post by a law enforcement agency (Pontoon Beach Police) is an expression of citizen interest and commitment to law enforcement," Vadalabene said. W. F. "Mick" Strange, Madison, vice-president of the Cahokia Mound Council for Exploring, was the first person honored as he first made the initial contact with the Pontoon Beach police and Donald Patrick, who was then juvenile officer, about organizing the post, and since has given guidance to the adult leaders. Juvenile Officer Donald Brick of the Madison Police Department which sponsors Post 10-4, the first law enforcement post in the area, was presented an award of appreciation for members of his department and Explorer Post 10-4, who assisted in the organization. Officer Glenn Wright of the Granite City Police Department, which sponsors Post 10-33 also was honored for his assistance.

Also receiving certificates of appreciation for support of the Explorers in Pontoon Beach were: Trooper Jon Lyharger of the Illinois State Police; Madison County Sheriff John Maers; Paul Bennett, Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association; Chris Kieffer, Harry Laughlin, Robert Carroll, Edgar Patrick, Burt Litselman, Jerry Mott, Frank Matyas, Eric Wilson, Vle Reese, Jerome Perotti, Frank Crammer, and Harry Briggs. A special award was presented to the Granite City Press-Record for the paper's support of community activities. The award was accepted for the paper by Mrs. Valerie Evenden, a Press-Record editor and associate advisor to Madison Police Explorer Post 10-4. Appreciation awards also were presented to Raymond L. Gaudette Jr., Jeff Chandler, Danny Kreher, Billy Ross, Charlie Cromaine, Patrolman Richard McIntosh, Donald Rea, Madison County Deputy Rosalie Hubner, Fire Chief Arnold Rutherford and the Long Lake Fire Department. Special awards for "outstanding assistance" were presented to Mrs. Linda Wade, former associate advisor, and Mrs. Jerry (Mary) Warren, both adult committee members, and Pontoon Beach Police Sgt. Harold Denham, a committee member. Donald D. Patrick, advisor for Post 255 and counselor for the Pontoon Beach Coordinated Youth Services, acted as master-of-ceremonies. He also gave the official welcome on behalf of Floyd David Moss, village president who was unable to attend. Assisting with the award presentations were: Chief of Police Roosevelt Bennett Jr. and James A. Laughlin, president of Post 255. Rev. William Roddy, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene of Pontoon Beach, gave the invocation. The event was catered by Voloski catering of Madison.

Advocate of United Nations flag sees world government in future

The United Nations flag on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is a symbol that the university belongs not only to the local community and the United States of America but also to the world community, according to SIUE Professor of Philosophy Ronald Glossop.

The flag has been flying on the campus since 1974, but it took some time and patience to get it there, according to Glossop.

"I took it to the Planning Council of the University Senate the first time in 1969, but they turned it down because they felt that first they had to debate the merits of the United Nations before they could fly the flag here," he said.

Glossop felt that the Senate's viewpoint was unwarranted. "We don't necessarily always agree with everything that the United States government is doing," he stressed, "but we fly our American flag nevertheless."

In 1971, when Glossop was elected to the University Senate, he brought the issue of the flag back to light. "Some students and I decided to take it back to the Senate, but first we collected some signatures on petitions in support of the idea."

"During registration of the fall quarter in August 1971, we distributed petitions and questionnaires and polled 409 students, 81 per cent of whom were in favor of the flag," Glossop said.

He took it back to the University Senate for debate and, he recalls, "it was defeated by only a small margin, though."

After the issue had been defeated twice, he decided to "let it ride."

Then, in 1973, Illinois Governor Dan Walker issued a proclamation that declared Illinois citizens to be world citizens. "It gave me a good opportunity to try again, so I tried to take advantage of it," Glossop said.

He took it back to the Senate; it passed the Curriculum Council and was finally adopted by the University Senate in May 1974. The late SIUE President John S. Rendleman approved it in June, and the flying of the UN flag became a reality later the same year, 1974.

After the resolution was passed, some students and faculty members questioned it.

"Many people on the campus felt that it was an empty symbol because we had nothing here to be able to call ourselves a world university," Glossop said.

It was soon afterward that Glossop began teaching a course known as "The Problems of War and Peace," which deals with one of the most urgent problems in man's society: war.

"Today, many students tell me how useful the course is because they finally understand what is happening in the news concerning other parts of the world," he said.

Built around the course of "The Problems of War and Peace," a program in Peace Studies was developed by Glossop.

"What we deal with in these courses is vital to everyone. We examine international affairs and relations, as well as organizations such as the United Nations, according to Glossop.

Throughout the United States and the world, countries and cities — as well as colleges and institutions such as SIUE — are beginning to declare their world citizenship, according to Glossop.

"There are even small institutions such as churches that have declared themselves a part of the world community," he said.

According to Glossop, who is also chairman of the St. Louis chapter of World Federalists, the growing number of institutions, cities and countries proclaiming their interdependence in the future may provide the degree of global outlook that would make a world government possible.

"A democratic federal world government based on the principles that Madison, Hamilton and Jay advanced at the time of adoption of the U.S. Constitution would give support to peace-loving democratic national governments."

"A world government of this type could work in cooperation of such worldwide problems as war, pollution, oppression and poverty.

"Ideally, it would free humankind from the curse of war and, in turn, use human energy to seek knowledge and available natural resources for the betterment of all," Glossop says.

"Flying a flag which represents these principles cannot be bad."

Foreign air travel guide

RICHARD MOWERY

U. S. Rep. Melvin Price (D, 23rd Ill.) is advising area residents that a new consumer publication, "Consumer Guide to International Air Travel," is now available upon request from his Washington office.

Cong. Price explained that the publication, released through the Civil Aeronautics Board, is designed to acquaint the traveler with his rights and responsibilities in international air transportation.

The guide explains in layman's language regulations on fares, currency adjustments, fare increases, tickets, passports, airport check-in time limits and overhauls.

It also offers information on delays and cancellations, baggage allowances and charges, carrier liability for baggage and a section on how to file complaints with the carrier and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained by writing to Rep. Price at: 2468 Rayburn Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Mrs. Arlene Brinkmeyer of Granite City was among 13 women who were elected members-at-large to the board of directors.

Recognition was given to Mrs. Launthaus and Mrs. Juanita Gehrig was awarded the "Thanks Buds" Plaque for outstanding service to Girl Scouts. Presenters to Mrs. Mary Ellen Fischer, Mrs. Mary Jan Lacke and Tom Hamlin.

'The Judgment' at Calvary Pentecostal

"The Judgment," a new motion picture in color, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Calvary Pentecostal Assembly, 4610 Maryville Road.

The 90-minute film being shown in churches and auditoriums across America is proving to be one of the most effective soul winners of the time, according to a church spokesman.

Written by a Pastor Clements as a sermon, his message was later changed to drama form and people in the church acted out the theme. At its first presentation more than 100 people came to Christ, its sponsors said.

Other churches wanted to see the play performed, but the group was unable to travel at that time and the material laid dormant in the pastor's desk for 14 years. At that time, the young people's leaders of Victory Temple heard of the play and asked permission to get a cast and prepare it for the church. The pastor agreed.

The public is invited to view the movie. No admission will be charged.

St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, will honor high school and college graduates among its congregation at both the 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. worship services Sunday.

Each graduate will be presented with a memento from the church.

Dr. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, will deliver the morning message, dealing with the role of graduating students in today's world.

The Chancel Choir under the direction of Mrs. Irene Rapp will sing "This Land Is Your Land" by Guthrie. Visitors are invited to attend the services.

Mrs. Vinton wins three iris awards

Mrs. Gloria Vinton, 3248 Wayne Ave., won three awards during the weekend at the Greater St. Louis Iris Society Show, held at Northwest Plaza Shopping Center, in St. Louis County.

First place award was for her entry, "Lilac Hayes." She also received a second place for "My Sin" and third for "Tranquility."

Mrs. Vinton grows 500 plants, plus her own terra dressings, and invites visitors to see her garden at her home.

She said the St. Louis Hemerocallis Society will present its 19th annual show on June 26 at Northwest Plaza Center from noon until 6 p.m.

Piano recital

Students of Sherry Mitchell will give a spring piano recital Sunday at 2 p.m. at Johnson's Music Store on Nameoki Road.

The students will play mostly American compositions. They have been studying different forms of American music and have made notebooks dealing with that subject. The notebooks will be on display at the recital.

A major study this year was ensemble work—playing a duet or with other instruments, and these also will be performed. There is no admission charge, and the public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Hochuli mark 35 years

Mr. and Mrs. Manfred "Bud" (Dorothy) Hochuli, 1536 Rodger Ave., were honored at a surprise party in observance of their 35th wedding anniversary held in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Linda) Miles, 9 Lily Court.

Co-hosts were another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Marge) Love.

Guests attending were Mr. Charles Everett Dollins of Piedmont, Mo.; Randy and Vickie Biggerstaff of St. Louis; and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hochuli, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Earney, Mr. and Mrs. William Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morelan, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Don Boswell, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Zotti and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fechte.

A buffet dinner was served from tables decorated with yellow and white streamers and wedding bells.

Mrs. Delaloye is honored by club

Mrs. Leona Delaloye was complimented with a gift and decorated cake by members of her social club — The Bunko-ettes — at last week's party in the home of Mrs. Julia Portell, 2335 Fontaine Road.

Winners at games were Mrs. Rose Drulge, Mrs. Evelyn McCollegen, Mrs. Delaloye, Mrs. Florida Batson and Mrs. Angie Buehler.

A dessert course was served by the hostess to these names and to Mrs. Kay Portell, a guest, and Mesdames Helen Santiago, Ruth Porter, Helen Lipchik and Dorothy Barnes. Mrs. Lipchik will host the club in two weeks, prior to disbanding for the summer months.

Mrs. Ilsa Bauer entertains club

The A to Z Pinocchio Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ilsa Bauer, 1272 Klein St., Venice, and was served dessert by the hostess.

Winning at card games were Evelyn Ferro, Ruth Kinder, Mary Mang, Lucille Broyles and Clara Winter.

Others attending were Sue Busch, Helen Krakowicki, Emily Majaki and Helen Love. Mrs. Love will host the next meeting in her home.

'32 summer fee for each course

High school students in Granite City will be able to attend summer school classes of their choice, but will be required to pay $32.50 tuition for each two-hour course taken, the Granite City Board of Education decided at Tuesday night's regular meeting.

Marching band will be offered at each high school at $10 per student. The district also will offer free summer classes for students in the Title I, special education and vocational cosmetology program.

There will be no junior high school or elementary school classes this summer.

Frank Kraus, assistant superintendent of the Granite City schools, told the board Tuesday night that the tuition for high school courses appeared to be the only feasible way to offer the classes, since the state has not made funds available this year to reimburse the local school districts for their summer school programs.

Even offering only the 30 required and most-wanted classes at the high school level, plus marching band, all tuition free, would cost the district about $38,000, which would have to come out of the operating funds for the next school year, Kraus explained.

He said if tuition is charged, the high schools will be able to offer all the programs which have been popular in past summers and will be able to form as many classes as possible where the average class size is 20 or more.

Kraus noted the $32.50 tuition figure represents the average cost of paying only the teacher plus fringe benefits, based upon an average class size of 20.

"This means we could have, for example, 18 students in a civics course, but we would have to have 22 in another English course to make up for it. There is going to be a lot of shuffling and work done before the end of the school year to set up these classes," Kraus explained.

Tuition of $35 had first been proposed, but was trimmed to $32.50 in later tabulations.

"We still are trying to do what the students want and are going to make every effort to offer as many classes as they sign up for, providing we can keep the average at 20 students per class," he added.

Marching band can be offered at $10 per student due to the large number of students each teacher can serve. It is estimated the cost will be $50 per school for the summer, which will allow the district to "break even" with a $10 per student tuition.

Special education classes and Title I classes are fully funded by federal or state grants and therefore must be offered tuition-free, he explained.

The vocational cosmetology program will serve 30 students who must attend summer school in order to complete the required number of hours for certification. Money was budgeted last year for the program and required summer school, so offering this class tuition-free would not call for expending funds not already budgeted, he added.

Kraus emphasized the summer tuition is for this summer only and it is anticipated the state will resume reimbursement for summer school before the summer of 1977.

He said the requiring of tuition this summer only should allow the district to break even on all classes offered. Only one summer expense will have to be carried over into the budget for the upcoming regular school year, $10,640 for required summer curriculum workshops for teachers. The workshops are required under the Title Four program, he explained.

"No one likes this," Kraus said, and noted, "We have been operating a summer program for 12 years and finally got a good thing going."

About 20 per cent of our total enrollment was taking summer classes, which is a very high percentage. Now, all of a sudden, the state takes away its reimbursement of the cost of summer school and we have hardly any program at all," the assistant superintendent stated.

He added that most other schools in Illinois have decided to require tuition this summer while some have cancelled their summer programs entirely.

3 plead guilty in area cases

Three persons pleaded guilty this week to Quad-City area felonies.

David King, 17, of the 1800 block of S. East Madison, pleaded guilty Monday to robbery and is to be sentenced June 25 by Circuit Judge Moses Harrison II.

King allegedly robbed Junior's Drive-in, 1317 Edwardsville Road, taking about $125.

Tuesday, Judge Harrison accepted a guilty plea from Inez Wallace, 36, East St. Louis, on a forgery charge. She allegedly attempted to use a worthless check made out for $85, while in Granite City. Sentencing also was set for June 25.

Larry Eugene McKenzie, 25, of the 2000 block of 12th St., pleaded guilty Wednesday to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance and unlawful delivery of cannabis. He is to be sentenced June 18 before Judge Harrison.

McKenzie was among more than 30 men arrested in a series of drug arrests coordinated by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of southwestern Illinois in late March.

48 tows delayed; to open main lock temporarily

Tows at the Chain of Rocks Canal Locks 27 have risen from 42 Monday to 48 today — 31 northbound and 17 southbound.

The 31 northbound tows have 323 barges and the 17 southbound have 130 barges.

Northbound river traffic is proceeding today and the locks will switch to southbound vessels at 10 o'clock tonight.

The one-way traffic periods are being coordinated with Alton Locks 26 so that the shipping flow is maintained between the two.

Periodic adjustments will be made to the lockage sequence until the congestion has been eliminated.

The tie-up is related to repair of a lower guideway in the 1,200-foot lock here. The 600-foot lock remains in use.

It was announced this week by James A. Peterson, chief of the Operations Division, St. Louis District of the Army Corps of Engineers, that effective at 6 a.m. tomorrow, the 1,200-foot main lock will be temporarily opened to aid in relieving the accumulation of vessel traffic.

The current backlog of traffic is also due partially to a recycling of traffic that was delayed last month at Locks and Dam 26, Alton, as well as an increase in overall general commodity shipments.

The 1,200-foot main lock at Granite City will remain open only for a period of several days in order to expedite lockage of the tows presently awaiting lockage.

Thereafter, the main lock will again be closed for construction purposes and the 600-foot auxiliary lock will be used for all lockage of vessels.

While the 1200-foot main lock is open, vessels entering and exiting its lower approach will be restricted to a maximum width of 70 feet due to the ongoing guideway construction.

In addition, all vessels are to exercise extreme caution when in the vicinity of the lower miter gates of the main lock.

Protective timbers have been removed from the miter gates and the gates are vulnerable to damage. During this period, the 600-foot auxiliary lock will remain open its full 110-foot width.

County asks funds to study housing codes

Madison County is proceeding slowly in determining whether it should prepare a county-wide building code, but the County Board Wednesday approved an application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for funds to study "variable housing codes" in Madison and St. Clair counties.

A variable housing code would impose different standards on homes in older neighborhoods than it would on new homes in more expensive neighborhoods, all aimed at keeping each home in as good a condition as others in that neighborhood.

The Madison County Community Development office could supply funds for the rehabilitation of deteriorated housing, if such a code is adopted.

No specific amount is sought in the grant, but any money received would have to be divided between Madison and

St. Clair counties and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

It is hoped the grant will enable hiring of two building inspectors for a three-month trial period in Madison County.

In other business Wednesday, the county board authorized its chairman, Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, to enter into an agreement with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to study the feasibility of installing a pump in the "grassy lakes area" of Chouteau Township.

SWIMARPC also will participate in the study which will include soil drilling samples and the gathering of other data.

The resolution of the county board specifies the cost to the county is not to exceed $10,000.

It was noted the information is vital to the county's Building and Zoning Department in making decisions concerning future building and zoning in portions of Chouteau Township.

Bicentennial picnic for crippled children

The Granite City Society for Crippled Children is planning a picnic on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at Shelter 5 in Wilson Park.

The picnic will mark an observance of the U.S. Bicentennial.

Leo Lupe, chairman of the event is inviting adults to help crippled and handicapped children celebrate the Bicentennial.

From 1 to 2 p.m., Boy Scouts will present Indian dancers. A square dancing group, the Checkerboard Squares, will perform from 2 to 3 with the Young School of Baton entertaining by exhibiting twirling skills throughout the afternoon.

Shrine clowns will be on hand to greet the children and their parents. Refreshments will be hot dogs and soda.

Historic sites noted

Many sites prominent in Quad-City and Madison County history still exist and are being pinpointed with the aid of searches through libraries and early plat books, Granite City Rotarians were told Tuesday.

Mrs. Georgia Engleke, a local resident who is a descendant of the Isaac Gillham family, has taken an interest in area history in recent years and has submitted findings in book form to the Southern Illinois University Press.

Introduced to the club by City Clerk Robert Stevens, Mrs. Engleke told the area when the American Bottoms were covered by a 20-mile-wide Mississippi River reaching to present Illinois and Missouri bluffs.

The extensive water area resulted from a glacier and created unusually fertile soil, stilling in streambeds early on, she related. Corn proved to be the most successful crop here initially, she added.

Mrs. Engleke traced initial exploration to Marquette and Joliet in 1673.

She noted that dandelions were brought here by the French as a coffee substitute, and that there were abundant maple trees, leading this region to be known as a "land of milk and honey."

Floods and fevers proved to be an early problem, it was noted, along with fear of Indians, who were chased from here to Peoria.

Mrs. Besta succumbs today

Mrs. Mary Besta, 7212 Washington Ave., died at her home today. Her husband, Joseph Besta, is among the survivors.

Arrangements are pending at the Sedlak Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave., Madison (978-4613).

News notes

About 1,200 bankers will attend the 88th annual convention of the Illinois Bankers Association May 23-25 at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers, St. Louis. Speakers will include Congressman John Anderson of Illinois and William E. Colby, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Illinois House Revenue Committee voted Tuesday to favor unanimously a bill legalizing "policy" or "numbers" games in the state and rejected a bill to halt the state's "instant lottery" game.

A total of $150 million of Illinois general obligation bonds was sold last week at comparatively low interest rates, following renewal of Illinois Triple-A bond rating.

Daniel Walker has announced, "We have been told by bond experts that our bonds once again are being greeted enthusiastically in the market place, confirming Illinois' sound financial condition," Walker said.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will consider May 28 approving a $5½ million weigh station for Interstate 270 on Chouteau Island. It is intended as a "port of entry" to discourage truck weight violations.

The Granite City School Board will grant Saturday with South High varsity basketball coaching applicants.

District Eight state highway engineers are opposing a management review by District Engineer Harold W. Monroey under which eight of the nine bureau chiefs have been named acting chiefs pending interviews of applicants and reviews of present chiefs' qualifications.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that potential criminal defendants have no right to refuse to testify before a grand jury.

A special provision under which Illinois Central Railroad was exempt from local-level property taxes for 125 years was voided Monday by Chicago Circuit Judge Donald O'Brien.

The railroad was ordered to pay taxes in the 82 counties in which it operates, retroactive to Aug. 20, 1972, when a merger with Gulf, Mobile and Ohio formed Illinois Central Gulf.

The Illinois House approved 103-0 Monday a $40,000 inheritance tax exemption for widow or widower, compared to the present $20,000.

Illinois Senate Minority Leader William C. Harris, R-Pontiac, said this week there was inaccuracy in a federal prosecutor's assertion that he received free vacations from a ready-made concrete firm executive. He has sponsored a bill to increase weight limits for concrete trucks.

CAZ FIRE An estimated $875 damage was done by fire to the interior of an auto owned by Bernice Smith, 626 Salvator St., Venice. Venice firemen were called to the scene at 12:30 a.m. today and returned at 1:10 a.m. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Mrs. Edith Jordan, 59, dies

Mrs. Edith S. Jordan, 59, of 2105 Monroe Ave., died at 7 a.m. today at St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo., where she had been a patient one week.

Born in Tamm, Ill., she had resided in the Quad-Cities for 35 years.

Mrs. Jordan was employed as an IBM control clerk for 18 years at the Statistical Tabulator Co., St. Louis.

Her husband, George M. Jordan Sr., died in 1963.

Survivors include two sons, George M. Jordan Jr. of St. Chajon, Calif. and Walter Carl Jordan, Portage Des Sioux, Mo.; a daughter, Mrs. George S. (Barbara V.) Graf, Granite City; three brothers, Ernest Burke, Granite City, Harlan Burke, Marion, Ill. and Dwayne Burke of St. Louis; four sisters, Mrs. Steve (Helen) Gotch, St. Louis, Mrs. Mary Burns, Livingston, Ill., Mrs. Rose Poole, Versailles, Mo., and Mrs. J. C. (Wanda) McKinney, Chicago and six grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

CAR HITS TREE

Todd Reiter, 16, of 4015 Rode Ave., was injured when his car struck a tree and went to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4:48 p.m. Wednesday for treatment. He suffered abrasions to his right upper arm and pain to his chest. X-rays were taken and he was released.

News & Views

I'LL BET YOU $2.75 YOU CAN MAKE IT THIS SUMMER.

Enjoy A 50% Discount And Our New Summer Cookbook At Your First Meeting.

As we all know, losing weight and keeping it off isn't easy. And it can't be done on good intentions alone.

Sometimes we need a new reason to get started and to stay there, in the right direction.

When the right time arrives we seem to know it. We breeze right through to our goals. We feel better and look better. But most of all feel better about ourselves.

So please accept my invitation as the reason to join Weight Watchers. Not only will you receive all these benefits but you will join at a 50% discount. A good reason to get started.

You have everything to gain and nothing to lose but weight.

Fondly,

Sandie Folender

Raybelle Seals
(She lost 102 1/4 pounds)

"I know I'm gorgeous," says Raybelle Seals

Raybelle Seals responds, "I know it" when people greet her with "Sissy" is that you? You're gorgeous."

She's not being egotistical. She's being honest. She has shed her matronly appearance since the loss of 102 1/4 pounds from her 5 ft. 4 in. figure. Now Raybelle is slim of figure and has acquired the youthful girlish look that belies that fact that she is 55 years old and has adult children ranging in age from 37 to 31 years old.

Raybelle is more exuberant too. She practically danced up to the stage when Sandie Folender called her name at the Century Club luncheon. Then she did a quick joyful step as she stood in front of her before photo. She phrases it this way, "As a fat person I was reserved and as a thinner me... look out!"

This Century Club member is a longtime member of Weight Watchers. She joined on June 8, 1970 and reached goal in November 1975. Raybelle points out, "Norma Terry is my third lecturer. I like the dedication, enthusiasm and pure joy of her way of explaining the Weight Watchers Program."

As a member she's learned that boredom and inactivity brings about bad eating habits. "I try to keep busy," she stresses. However, one thing she is certain of and she states it emphatically, "Weight Watchers Program is the right way of life for me."

Violet Hotop's success as a member leads to her daughter Joan's success as a member.

Violet Hotop joined the Weight Watchers class in Perryville January 1973 because she had received a bathroom scale as a Christmas gift. Today, this mom of eight children is 162 pounds thinner and has maintained goal weight since September 1974. She was honored at the Century Club luncheon that year. It was a happy day for her.

However, the November 1975 Century Club luncheon was even a more momentous occasion for Violet. True, she was elated to be wearing a size 14 instead of a size 30 1/2 to the luncheon but at this luncheon she had come specifically as Joan Hotop's mom. Joan Hotop 19 years old was to be one of six teenagers honored for attaining Century Club membership. It was not a unique honor to occur in Century Club. Several other honorees have daughters in the group too.

What especially pleased Violet was that Joan had become a Weight Watchers member 16 months after she had joined because she had been motivated by her mom's success in the following of the Program as well as her mom's changed appearance.

Joan says of her family, "We were all overweight. I learned early to pretend that it didn't bother me when I was referred to as fatso or fatty by the kids in school. But it hurt deeply. I was really crying inwardly and I hated myself. I always felt out of place around people."

Violet too had been tagged 'fatso' in her school days. However, she overlooked the name calling because as she says, "I love to eat."

Both learned as members of the class headed by lecturer Gerry Sutterer that members can still love to eat but that it's in knowing what to eat that keeps the family that eats together to stay thin together.

Violet prepares most of the meals sticking mainly to the basic Program. However, Violet was quick to add, "I collect recipes and I do try many of them. Joan interjected, "I like to make the desserts."

A carmel
or a pickle

Because of their changed food attitudes the two have learned to cope when faced with temptations. Violet reports, "I wanted so much to succumb to a carmel while I was out shopping. Instead I bought myself a dill pickle."

Concerning this reaction she declares, "I felt real proud of myself when I bought the pickle not the carmels. I didn't think I had it in me to accomplish what I have accomplished for myself. Plus I have been an example to Joan. My eldest daughter Pat is now a member of Weight Watchers too. You know I feel like I have found a new world. I feel like I am 16 not 56. I take great joy in fishing, gardening, dancing. I just zip around. Before I needed help to get in and out of chairs and going up and down the stairs. But no more!"

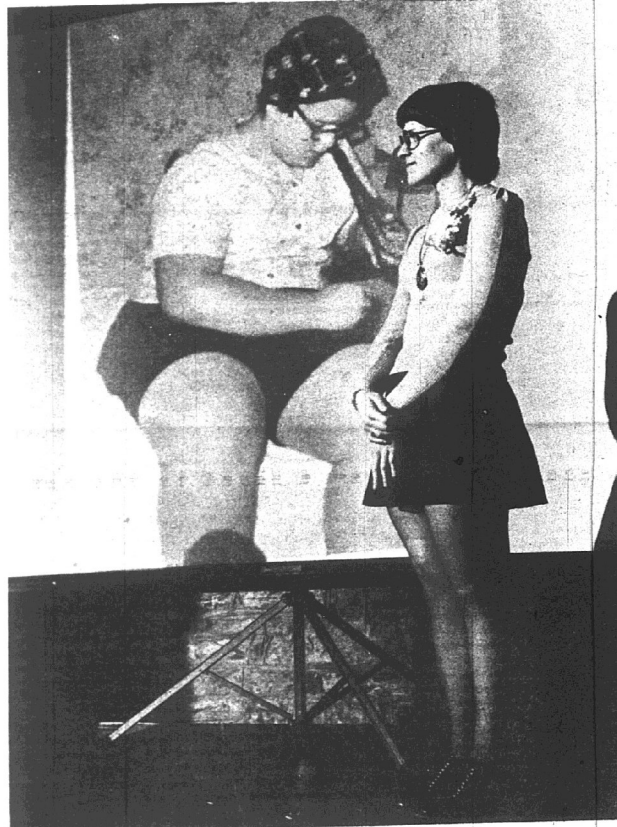

Joan too finds that her job is easier at Prince Gardner Co., where she is required to stand throughout the day. She is finding people who knew her in high school passing her up because they don't recognize her. A former high school teacher learning her identity declared, "You're a doll!"

Concerning her high school days, Joan admits, "I missed out on a lot of things in high school because I was fat. Now that I am wearing size 14's instead of size 24 I have plans for my future. I might even go back to school."

The scale... was it a hint from her husband?

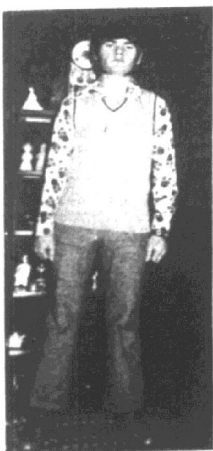

When asked about the scale that brought her to class Violet said, "It was the only gift my husband gave me that Christmas. You can't imagine how disappointed I was when I opened the gift. He never told me why he gave it to me but I figured he was trying to tell me that I needed to lose weight."

The 1975 Christmas gift Violet received from her husband also took her by surprise. However, this one was a set of diamond rings, she found more to her liking. Julius Hotop might not be one to talk a lot but his gifts to his wife speaks volumes.

Joan Hotop
(Yesteryear and today)

A Happier Future For Greg

Greg Brenner
(He lost 75 1/2 pounds)

This year is definitely the beginning of a new life for Gregory Alan Brenner.

The Dale, Illinois, farm youth just turned 18 on St. Pat's Day. His waistline is ten inches smaller than it was a year ago. "I take a size 32, instead of a size 42," he emphasizes.

And because he's 75 1/2 pounds thinner he can look forward to being a part of the communicative world.

Prior to his membership he shied away from people and parties. "I was withdrawn" is how he describes himself.

Although he is still not out in the forefront—he is where there is people. "I feel more accepted by people," says he.

However, Greg yearns for more. He wants to develop the close friendships that he denied himself when as a fat youth he warded off such relationships. "I feared further ridicule" is his explanation. He hated his nickname 'Tubs'.

"It's part of the scene"

Greg has plans for himself now that he bears no recognition to Tubs. "I would like to operate the farm more on my own," he stresses. "Now I work for my dad."

This Lifetime Member nearly became a dropout before he even registered as a member of Weight Watchers. He explained, "The person who persuaded me to meet her at class was late. I was absolutely scared of the entire idea of becoming a member. When my friend arrived she sure had to do some tall talking in assuring me that it was a friendly class. And it was and it is. I've had three lecturers; all great. Now Richard Rumsey is my lecturer. I tell everyone I lost my weight because of the teamwork that's found at the Weight Watchers organization."

He had this to say in conclusion, "Now I wonder if there are any people in the 15-18 year age group that would just like to correspond with me... Greg Brenner, Dale, Ill. I invite them to write."

Greg Alan Brenner... the Lifetime Member has indeed learned fast in how to be more communicative.

Sandie Says:

SANDIE FOLENDER

So far during my lifetime the two things I've found most difficult to do were losing weight and raising children. And in most instances motherhood wins out as the most difficult. Nevertheless I find the two undertakings amazingly similar.

First of all we should never do either one unless we really want it. It is only because we really want to have children that we can put up with all the work and problems that go along with it. The same is true of being a Weight Watchers member. Because most of us want to lose weight so badly, we are able to listen to the nonsense some non-Weight Watchers members give us. They make it difficult for us to be "legal" at times. They try to tell us "a little won't hurt" or "who needs a class anyway?" But since we want to reach goal we won't listen to them.

Secondly just as many of us have children who might tell us what their friends are allowed to do and why can't they do it too, especially when it's dangerous or wrong and we as a parent reply "I don't care what your friend does—I only care about you. You know that's true at Weight Watchers too. As a lecturer we don't want to know what diet your friend is on or how someone cheated and still lost weight. We only care what you do. Our job is to show you the right way, the best way. The only way. And that is to stay legal. Our job as Weight Watchers members is to always be prepared, to call Dual-A Lecture, to call our hostesses ahead of time, to cook something legal, and to say "No, thank you" to something not on the program.

This may make us angry at times. You know like why should we bother? Maybe we just are feeling antagonistic. Well it's normal to feel angry. Just don't give in! Giving in isn't what we really want. That is only for the moment. When the moment has passed and we were "legal"—we are glad. Now we don't have to fear the scale or skip the class or feel disappointed in ourselves.

And a last thought at how being a Weight Watchers member is similar to raising a child. As Weight Watchers member and as a parent we all know and appreciate the necessity for rules and discipline.

We may not like them but there is a need for them. Rules are the method used to build the discipline necessary for the future. What does that mean? It means what is the sense of losing weight today if we aren't going to keep it off in the future? How will we be able to say "no" to ourselves six months after we reach goal if we can't say it six months before we reach goal?

It is all for the future. The time in the classroom is used to teach us how to handle ourselves in the future. Please do—let's all enjoy our thinness.

"I am a happy girl," says ten year old

DEBBIE

My name is Debbie Welch. I was eight years old when I started to attend a Weight Watchers class. I have always been overweight but I didn't notice it until I started school and the kids started to call me names. My mother took me to the doctor to help me lose weight but it didn't help. I kept getting fatter. I had to wear a size 14, EE, with shoes of 14, size 14, EE, shoes.

I joined a Weight Watchers class. I was shy about going to class. But everyone was so nice and so glad to have me join. I didn't like to be fat. I didn't mind changing my eating habits and having my food fixed a different way. I love the milk shakes we make.

It has taken me about seven months to reach goal weight. I have lost 112 pounds. I had weighed 122 pounds and I now weigh 10 pounds. Now I can wear a size 4 dress and my shoe size is 4. I medium. I can also wear a bikini bathing suit. I can run and play better and do exercises in gym.

On Halloween I went out trick and treating and I gave my candy to my friends and my teacher. I have more friends now. I am glad my mother took me to the Weight Watchers class. I am a happy girl. I like to go to the meetings and get weighed and have the lecturer surprise me and tell me how much I've lost for the week. I am glad of all the help I have had. My lecturer Kathleen Voss was a lot of help to me. I want to thank the people of the Weight Watchers organization for planning a Program for overweight people so that I won't have to be fat again. Debbie

This clerk is elated to be mistaken for a civilian

Bunny Mason
She lost 54 pounds

Bunny Mason listened as the weights of the football players were announced during the telecast of the game. Neither she or her husband commented on this information, Bunny related.

However, I felt that he was sizing me up against the weights of the players and I knew I weighed as much as many of them. That's what brought me back to a Weight Watchers class.

However, this time she kept her membership secret from her husband for several weeks. "I knew all along though that I would attain goal weight this time," she stated.

Why this time and not before?

Previously this young mom of four children David 16, Peter 14, Emily 5, and Susan 1, joined with a friend. When the friend decided to drop out, so did Bunny. "I knew this time that I had to join class alone. This way I wouldn't have an excuse to miss class if my friend decided not to attend class." However, Bunny, readily recognized that she needed to challenge herself. This she did by challenging a member in the class without the member being aware she was challenged. Bunny explained, "I would ask this person, a good loser, how much she had lost for the week and then I tried to lose as much or more the next week."

Bunny also knew that she had to provide herself with short term goals. She did this by working towards a ten pound loss. Not a 54 pound loss, the loss of weight attained when she reached goal weight in January 1976. I also broke it down to one week at a time," pointed out this positive thinking member. She continued, "I also talked to myself a lot, especially when preparing food as previous to membership I was a taster of everything. I also wrote down something my lecturer Jo Keyes has said and keep it in a prominent spot in our home. One of her favorite sayings, 'What we eat today determines how we'll look this summer,' really hit home with me."

When Bunny wore a size 20, she was told by her husband not to put on a swimming suit when the two of them went to swim parties. "So I didn't," she declared. A friendly girl she never lacked for friends and always enjoyed herself when out with people. She's involved in activities at her church, St. Josephs in Clayton, at Flynn Park School where her children are students and she also serves as a United Way chairman, and is now clerking regularly at two Weight Watchers classes. Monday mornings in Creve Coeur where Sandie Folender is lecturer and on Thursday evenings in University City where Marcy Dean is lecturer.

Concerning her husband, Gary, a computer specialist with the government, she said, "I took nine weeks of membership to make my husband a believer. However, I feel that it was his idea to make me really mad and then I would show him I could lose weight. I understand his thinking for in a way I used that same method to keep me legal. In class I would make a statement, such as I'm having this party or going to a party and I knew that the very next week someone at class would ask me how I got through the party. Our class

Now her husband describes his wife as a very fantastic person, "and sexy too." And I feel sexy," admits Bunny. "Can you believe it, I'm now buying bikini underpants in size 7. I once wore size 10 panties. And I have a two piece bathing suit. When I bought it I just wanted to walk out of the store in it and never have to change clothes. I've never worn a two piece bathing suit in my entire life."

"What we eat today determines how we'll look this fall."

At the Brentwood Y is a close-knit class. If a member misses class that member is missed. I have no intention of ever missing a Wednesday morning class now that I am a Lifetime Member. That's my class and I need it. It doesn't matter that I clerk at two other classes. I know where I belong on Wednesday morning sitting in class listening to Jo Keyes.

"Water it," she cried

At home her youngsters understood that Bunny needed help to fight off temptations when she'd yell for her son to "water the leftovers." She explained, "That meant he took whatever it was that was getting to me over to the sink and washed it down the drain. My little one once piped up, 'Mom, are you going to get so thin that you will go down the drain?'"

Her lifestyle has changed in most everything she does. The Masons dinner parties now feature fruit as part of the hors d'oeuvres offerings. "You should see how the men take to the apples," she said with a chuckle. As a clerk she feels she can now be a big help to the member. "I am the first person they see when they come to class and I feel that my love for the Program can be felt by the member. I feel that my feelings are related in the way I greet the member, the way I handle their registration, and in all aspects of my duties as a clerk." However, it's Bunny too who gets a charge from the member when she is mistaken as a civilian. She emphasized, "Me... who has reduced from a size 20 to a size 14... mistaken as a civilian... that's sure more gratifying than being compared to a football player."
